Dr. Andrew Thompson meets with local leaders

BILL McRAE, manager of Price-Skeena Forest Products, has been appointed by Don Phillips, Minister of Economic Development, to the B.C. Development Corporation.

Federal government hearings on the Kitimat-Edmonton oil pipeline will take place on the west coast region in late April or early May. Dr. Andrew Thompson told persons who attended a meeting of the Regional District of Kitimat-Sikine Friday.

Dr. Thompson was recently appointed by the Minister of Fisheries, Romeo LeBlanc and the Minister of Transport, Otto Lang. He is a professor of law at UBC on leave to the federal government. He was chairman of the B.C. Energy Commission until June 1976 and he is now in charge of the inquiry.

He said some preliminary meetings will be held in Terrace, Kitimat and Prince Rupert as well as the lower mainland. He said the federal government sees the question of oil tankers as a west coast issue, not a problem of particular concern to the northwest alone.

He said public input will take high priority during the inquiry and he hopes the public will become involved and keep informed through the news media.

Thompson will inquire into and report upon the social and environmental impact regionally (including the impact on fisheries) that could result from the establishment of a marine tanker route and construction of a marine terminal (deep water port) at Kitimat; the navigational safety and related matters associated with the establishment of a marine tanker route and construction of a marine terminal at Kitimat and the broader concerns and issues related to oil tanker movements on the west coast as might be affected by the proposal.

The preliminary hearings will outline how the issues are developing. Thompson will report upon representations made to him concerning the terms and conditions which should be imposed, if authority is given to establish a marine terminal at Kitimat, on the size, construction and operation thereof and on the size, construction and operation of tankers in the approaches thereto.

He said the first stage will be to make sure people understand applications proceedings, funding and timing. The hearings will not be going into evidence at this stage. Their purpose at this stage will be to set the ground rules of the inquiry.

From those people who show concern at the first set of hearings, Thompson will determine who will ask questions and who can present witnesses at the second set of hearings which will be held sometime in mid-summer.

He hopes to have a complete information package for the public in May from both the Department of Fisheries and the Department of Transport on all data concerning the pipeline.

The formal hearings will come later and will be broken up into different subjects in each community the hearings are held. Kitimat may hear on the proposed terminal and tank farm while the people of Prince Rupert may hear information on maritime traffic and tanker safety. Persons who wish to speak on a particular subject can do so by visiting the community the subject matter is being discussed.

It will be at this set of hearings that the company will put its experts forward.

Attending the meeting were Vic Joffe, Helmut Giesbrecht, Les Watmough, Joe Banyay, Bob Copper, Sharon Biggs and George Thom.

PULP MILL FOR KITIMAT
Vancouver Man Announces Plans for an Early Start in the Richest Valley on the Continent

Construction of a pulp and paper mill with a capacity of 250 tons daily, involving the expenditure of several millions of dollars, will be commenced at Kitimat shortly. C.F. Pretty of Pretty's Timber Lands of Vancouver made the announcement recently. Local people know the extent and the value of the timber lands of the Kitimat Valley and it has long been the local dream that a pulp mill would be established to utilize the timber. It is common knowledge that the Kitimat Valley is one of the richest in British Columbia, not only for its pulp wood but as a mineral area and as an agricultural area.

While Terrace is within reasonable distance of Kitimat we would not advise a general boosting of prices or a too optimistic enthusiasm. Years are required to establish and get operating a pulp and paper mill. However the dreams of the pioneers is coming closer to a realization.

TOURIST HOTEL CHANGES
Geo. Tessier has all White Help and He Offers Travellers Advantages

George Tessier, the new owner of the Tourist Hotel at Terrace, is meeting with very favorable patronage since he got started. He has made a good many changes in the hotel, both in management and in service. One of his first moves was to secure all white help and he got the best. The dining room service is extra good now. He has also fitted up and furnished very nicely the cottages adjoining the hotel for the accommodation of commercial travellers who desire sample rooms — they can have them adjoining their own private rooms if desired. Mr. Tessier is running a first class hotel and his patrons are well satisfied with it.

TERRACE NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dover entertained seven tables of bridge in the G.W.V.A. Hall last Wednesday evening. The prize winners were Mrs. A.H. Barker and Dr. Turpil. After bridge the guests enjoyed some dancing. At midnight the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. H.L. Frank and daughter Mildred spent a few days last week in Remo, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilsons.

After the Easter holidays Miss French will give lessons to beginners during the noon hour at Mrs. Young's.

Miss Mallott was a visitor to Copper City over the weekend.

Amy Little, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Little has been ill for the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Doll and daughter of Woodcock spent the weekend in town. They have purchased Dan Clacker's place on Braun Island and will shortly move here.

Capt. Hearn and R. Beecher of the Lakelse hatchery were here over the weekend.

The Ladies Guild of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Soule on Thursday this week.

Mrs. J. Harrington spent the latter part of last week in Pacific.

Government Agent, N.A. Watt of Prince Rupert, was here over the weekend on official business.

Mrs. P.G. Skinner of Usk was a recent visitor here.

The Vanarsdol basketball team was here Saturday last and were defeated by the local people by a score of 10-9.

Cloverlawn gets one month delay

The District of Terrace Municipal Council granted Cloverlawn Investments Limited a one-month delay in construction start-up date for the Skeena Mall which will be constructed at a cost of $7,000,000 on the former Roman Catholic Church property on Lakelse Avenue.

In a letter over the signature of Carl McGowen of Cloverlawn a formal request was made of council for the delay. He requests that the commencement of construction be set back to July 31, 1977 and that the date for completion also be moved back one month to April 30, 1978.

Mr. McGowen, during a visit to Terrace last week, called on Mayor Gordon Rowland to brief him on the status of the project. He indicated that numerous changes in drawings with regards to Overwaitea and relocation of some of the tenants within the shopping centre have, unfortunately, extended the time that Cloverlawn had allowed in its schedule for drawings.

The Cloverlawn spokesman assured the mayor that, at this time, there seems to be no doubt as to the firm's ability to be in the ground during July 1977.

Wayne Epp Hospital Chairman

Wayne Epp was elected Chairman of the Mills Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees last Wednesday, March 23.

During the course of the Hospital Society meeting incumbent Chairman Vic Joffe and Trustee Satwant Singh both were defeated by new members Don Highe and Richard A. Wilnot, both elected for three year terms.

THE DISTRICT OF TERRACE honoured departing Mayor Gordon Rowland for his many years of service as alderman and mayor by presenting him with the chair that he occupied in council as mayor. Above Alderman Dave Maroney makes the presentation as Gordon reads the commemorating plaque affixed to the chair. Gordon left last Tuesday for his new home in Vernon, B.C.

Three charged with murder

Garth Clayton Young, age 29; Patrick John Pepin, age 17; and Richard Douglas Gerow, age 23; all of Terrace have been charged with first degree murder following the investigation into the death of Paul Andrew Arnold, age 26, also of Terrace.

Staff Sergeant Dick Latta said the investigation began at 12:10 p.m. on Saturday when the body of Arnold was reported to police and became public when the three suspects appeared in provincial court at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday.

He said the major break in the case came when police located the victim's car in a parking lot in Terrace.

Arnold's body was discovered at the end of a logging road near Kalum Lake Drive north of Terrace.

Larry Sherman new Sales Manager

Jim McEwan, President of McEwan GM, has announced the appointment of Larry Sherman as Sales Manager of the firm, replacing Stu Crouse who has accepted a position in Powell River.

Larry has been a resident of Terrace for the past eight years and has been with the GM dealership for the past two. He came to Terrace from Hope where he was involved in logging. He worked here as a grapple-yarder operator for Twin River. He later went into the insurance business with Prudential Insurance.

Larry is married to Judy and they have four children. Both he and his wife are active in the community. Larry was External Vice President of the Jaycees and was chairman of the Jaycee Trades Fair. Judy is currently Vice President of the Jaycees.

Larry looks to the future with optimism and he makes it quite clear that he is still a part of the McEwan sales team. He looks forward to seeing old customers and welcomes any new ones. He mentioned that the dealership is getting into the general line of heavy trucks and in this connection he is almost through a correspondence course from the Truck Marketing Institute which is designed to enable him to properly assess what is required from a particular truck to best perform a specific job.

In addition to the general truck lines Larry is looking forward to the coming of spring as he anticipates a record year for the firm in recreation vehicles. He has arranged for complete lines of trailers and campers as well as mobile and motor homes.

Jim McEwan was enthusiastic about the future with his new sales manager. He said that he was very sorry to see Stu Crouse leave but as it was a step up in Stu's career he did not feel that he should try to dissuade him in his decision. It makes the transition easy he noted, having a young man on the go like Larry to step into the breach. He said that Larry is a sales-oriented man who will still be a big part of the sales team. Larry himself agrees that he will be out on the lot more than at his desk.

$25,000 question unanswered

Municipal Affairs Minister Hugh Curtis has refused to answer "a question of morality" about a $25,000 gift being given to a group of northern B.C. municipalities by an oil-pipeline company.

Two days after he first asked the question, Graham Lea, New Democratic M.L.A. for Prince Rupert, was ruled out of order in the Legislature when he asked: "What is the minister's idea of morality in terms of a private company giving $25,000 to a municipal government convention?"

The gift was given to the North Central Municipal Association to insure that their convention would be held in part on the vessel Princess Patricia which would carry delegates along the route of tankers travelling to the proposed Kitimat pipeline. The gift came from the company that is seeking to build the pipeline.

Earlier Mr. Lea was ruled out of order when he asked the same minister if the government would give a $25,000 grant to environmental groups so that they could lobby the municipal councils against construction of the pipeline.

Shelter Aid for Elderly

The "Shelter Aid for Elderly Renters Act" represents a landmark in Canadian housing policy. Nowhere in Canada has a provincial government made such a strong commitment to meeting the shelter needs of the elderly.

Many senior citizens are seeing a steady increase in the portion of their income required for shelter — some are paying as high as 50 and 60 percent of their income on rent. This legislation provides the minister with the power to make direct cash payments to those elderly renters in need. For the purposes of this Act, "elderly" is defined as a person 65 years of age or older and "in need" is defined as a person paying in excess of 30 percent of income on rent. Single elderly renters in need will receive up to $70 per month under the proposed program and couples will receive up to $50 per month. It is estimated that some 26,000 senior citizens households will qualify for assistance under the proposed Shelter Aid for Elderly Renters Program (S.A.F.E.R.).

The "Shelter Aid for Elderly Renters Act" also amends the provincial "Income Tax Act" to facilitate a meshing of the Renter's Tax Credit Program with the Shelter Aid for Elderly Renters Program. Effective January 1, 1978, elderly renters will have the option of participating under one or the other, but not both, of these programs. Greatly increased benefits will be available under the Shelter Aid for Elderly Renters Program for those in need. Also effective January 1, 1978, the guaranteed $80 minimum Renter's Tax Credit for elderly renters will be discontinued. The resulting saving allows us to provide greater assistance to those truly in need of help.

The Act also allows for the administrative details relating to Shelter Aid for Elderly Renters Program to be determined by regulation. The administrative details covered by regulation are:

a. the formula on which Shelter Aid payments are based, including maximum assistance levels and maximum claimable rent levels, and

b. the rules for determining whether or not a person is eligible to receive Shelter Aid payments.

Handling these items by regulation will allow us to react quickly as the needs of the elderly change over time.

There is no need for senior citizens to phone or write for information regarding the Shelter Aid for Elderly Renters Program. Arrangements are being made to mail an application form and information brochure to all persons in receipt of the Old Age Security Pension. This mailing will take place during May 1977.

Many senior citizens have become apprehensive and fearful of what the future holds for them.

Tory leader to visit Terrace

Tony Saunders, Chairman of the Progressive Conservative Federal Organization Committee for British Columbia, announced that Joe Clark, the Conservative Party's national leader, will be in B.C. for a six-day tour commencing May 12, 1977, when he arrives in Vancouver.

On May 13, Mr. Clark travels from Vancouver to Powell River, over to Port Alberni, Port Alice, Port McNeill and Port Hardy. He returns to the mainland and goes to Ocean Falls, Bella Coola, Masset, Prince Rupert, Stewart, Terrace, Kitimat, Prince George, Quesnel, Williams Lake, 100 Mile House, Kamloops and back to Vancouver. In Prince George and Kamloops he will speak at fund-raising dinners.

This particular itinerary has been arranged to enable the federal Tory leader (1) to visit the newly-redistributed ridings of Comox-Powell River, Nanaimo-Alberni, Skeena, Prince George-Bulkley Valley, Cariboo-Chilcotin, Kamloops-Shuswap and Vancouver Centre; and (2) to familiarize himself with certain problems that are causing most of these regions deep concern, viz.: Details of air-sea rescue problems; transportation and the issues surrounding the question of the Kitimat pipeline.

Terrace to have its own dollar

Mayor Gordon Rowland has proclaimed a trade dollar initiated by the British Columbia Yellowhead 16 Travel Association as negotiable currency in Terrace between July 1 and September 5, 1977.

The association intends to run a trade dollar in this tourist region for a period of ten years commemorating a different place or event each year. The first in this series will be struck commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the District of Terrace. It will bear the district's Coat of Arms on one side with reference to the 50th anniversary. On the other side will be the Yellowhead route.

The trade dollar will be beautifully minted coins in pure nickel with a value of $1.00 and will be available for use by all businesses. The B.C. Yellowhead Association will be receiving a percentage of the profits of the retained coins, possibly in the vicinity of seven or eight thousand dollars, depending on the success of the program.

The trade dollar coins will be negotiable currency which could be used anywhere in the region for goods or service. The banks in the region will be accepting them as currency.

Alcan Board approves deal

The Board of Directors of Alcan Aluminium Limited recently approved in principle the offer which was made on March 10 by the company's United States subsidiary, Alcan Aluminum Corporation, to purchase the aluminum smelter and sheet mill facilities at Scottsboro, Alabama owned by Revere Copper and Brass Incorporated.

The transaction is still subject to a number of conditions, including execution of a definitive purchase agreement, receipt of necessary corporate and governmental approvals, the receipt of a favourable anti-trust business review letter from the U.S. Department of Justice and assignment or execution of necessary contracts in connection with the continuing operation of the facilities.

Three Rivers Workshop seeks assistance

Mr. C. Ripmeester, the Managing Director of the Three Rivers Workshop, which is operated by the Terrace Association for the Mentally Retarded, has launched an effort to try to obtain provincial government financing to double the space of the present facilities allowing the organization to accept additional workers. The aim of the school is to manufacture forest oriented articles.

Speaking to the Herald, Mr. Ripmeester outlined the problems that exist in the present facility donated by the school district. He also explained the present function of the school and goes into detail as to the future aspirations if the required initial financing is received which will allow the school to expand and become self-sufficient.

The Three Rivers Workshop provides training for the physically, mentally and emotionally handicapped people in Terrace and surroundings. The training program is designed to develop clients life skills and vocational capacity, including increased social independence, emotional stability and intellectual skill.

The workshop is presently located in two old portable school rooms with a floor area of 600 square feet each. The buildings are not insulated and are not fitted with washrooms or running water. Only a 30 ampere electrical service is available.

Over the years, through local support mainly in the form of donations, they have been able to accumulate over $10,000 in woodwork equipment, including a radial arm saw, two table saws, two band saws, three drill presses and a router with most attachments. Due to the low capacity electrical service they can only use two of these tools at any one time.

At present they have 16 full time and six part time trainees. This makes for very crowded conditions and makes us unable to accept additional trainees. The lack of washroom facilities creates a real problem in supervision as the trainees must leave the premises to go to a nearby building.

In the past, the workshop has received funding under L.I.P. for staff salaries. While this has been very helpful it also created a problem in that it does not provide funding for the full year. Historically, it has been impossible to retain staff from year to year. This is not conducive for continuity in the training program. To alleviate this problem, the workshop committee has conducted a marketing survey to determine required services not presently available in the Terrace area. They found that survey stakes, guard stakes, marker stakes, carrier blocks and flat car stakes were among those. There is also a requirement for rough boxes for the cemeteries, trailer blocks, picnic tables and card tables for which there is no local manufacturer. It was found that there is more than sufficient work available that the trainees can do and make the school self-sufficient to a large extent. They have contacted local companies who have indicated they would be willing to purchase the above products from the workshop.

They have the required equipment, the available manpower and the demand for services to make the workshop more self-supporting. Their only lack is space.

An important aspect of this program are the following benefits to the trainees:

a) The workshop will operate year round, excepting holidays and staff turnover will reduce through a year around pay cheque, allowing continuity in the program.

b) The trainees will participate in a work-oriented program similar to that found in industry, increasing their chance to be employed in the normal labour market.

c) It is anticipated there will be periods that the trainees can not fulfill incoming contracts in the time frame allowed. During these periods additional labour will be obtained through the local Human Resources P.R.E.P. officer.

This will have a double benefit. Our trainees will be working together with non-handicapped persons and thereby adopt better work habits and behaviour. The P.R.E.P. workers will be shown the positive aspects of employment and will become used to keeping regular hours. As they are physically and/or mentally more capable than the trainees they will feel more capable of coping with the situation than if they were placed directly in the normal work force where most co-workers would be their superior in skills and stamina.

The type of work done by the trainees and the P.R.E.P. workers will be of a forestry related nature, in an area which is mainly forestry oriented and can be integrated with the P.R.E.P. program as it is being implemented in Terrace.

The above outlined program can only be initiated if they can somehow double their workspace. If they were to build they would require a minimum of $85,000 to $104,000 (2400 sq. ft. at $25 per sq. ft. or $35 per sq. ft. plus $20,000 for property).

They have found an existing building with 2400 sq. ft. on a 120x188 ft. lot, presently owned by the Christian Missionary Alliance Church. It would require approximately $5,000 for renovation and wiring.

The Terrace Association for the Mentally Retarded has made an offer of $40,000 subject to financing which has been accepted. This offer was made to forestall an impending lease and in the hope that the provincial government would be able to provide major assistance in the procurement of this property.

City Hall happenings...

A special meeting of the District of Terrace Municipal Council was held in the Council Chambers on Monday, March 28 with Mayor Gordon Rowland in the chair for the final time. All aldermen were present with the exception of Alderman Helmut Giesbrecht, absent on personal business.

Robert Johnson, representing the Terrace 50th Anniversary Committee, appeared before council to request permission to look into the development of Lower Little Park as a community effort. He asked for permission to prepare plans for such a project. He received council's blessing and the assurance that some four sets of plans that already exist for such development will be made available to him.

Council was reluctant to send the District's Environmental Branch Head to Vancouver to study that community's sanitary landfill procedures. Alderman Bob Cooper suggested that it may be more beneficial if Mr. Morehouse went to an area which had sanitary landfill facilities under the same climatic conditions existing in Terrace. Administration was asked to investigate this possibility and come back with a recommendation. The District of Terrace is currently in the process of establishing a sanitary landfill for the disposal of municipal refuse. Mr. Morehouse will be in charge of this operation.

At the suggestion of Alderman Sharon Biggs resolutions will be prepared for submission at the North Central Municipal Association convention on board the Princess Patricia early in May. A meeting of the Committee of the Whole will be called to discuss proposed resolutions. Committee of the Whole meetings are held behind closed doors with the press exempted.

Mrs. D.B. Dozzi's resignation from the Parks and Recreation Commission was received by council with regrets. A suggestion that the commission be asked to submit names for a replacement was not acted upon when Alderman Sharon Biggs asked that this be left in abeyance as she expects another resignation in the very near future.

A resolution that the mayor's chair be suitably engraved and be presented to Gordon Rowland was approved. The chair was presented at Monday's meeting by Alderman Dave Maroney.

A request from the controversial Holy Spirit Association, also known as the "Moonies", for permission to canvass Terrace for funds was refused. The address as shown on the letterhead of the organization proved to be, on investigation, a vacant apartment in Burnaby which has been rented by a Scott Powell as of April 1. It is believed that this apartment will be occupied by Powell and a group moving up from Seattle. The organization was founded in Korea in 1954 by Sun Myung Moon and now claims centers located throughout North America.

A letter was received by the Skeena Board of Health expressing appreciation for the luncheon provided for that body by the District of Terrace.

A joint meeting of the Council of the District of Terrace and representatives of the Terrace Curling Association will be held in the Council Chambers on Monday, April 4 beginning at 8 p.m. This meeting is open to the public and the press.

A letter coordinating clean-up week by Outdoors Unlimited has been passed onto the Parks and Recreation Committee for study and recommendations.

Council agreed to go 50-50 with the School District in the by-election for mayor and school trustee in so far as costs are concerned.

No action was taken in connection with pending committee vacancies caused by Mayor Rowland's resignation during a Committee of the Whole meeting held on Tuesday, March 15.

KERMODE BEAR PIN

The committee reviewed an administrative report outlining pricing for various quantities of the Kermode Bear Pin as supplied by Flag and Company Manufacturing Limited.

It was recommended that 300 sterling silver plated Kermode Bear Pins with "Terrace Hank" write-up and packaged individually in cellophane bags, be ordered from Flag and Company Manufacturing Limited at the quoted price of $1.60 each plus applicable sales tax and that the use of the Kermode Bear Pins be restricted as mementoes to be given to visiting dignitaries and applicable convention delegates, when visiting Terrace.

It was further recommended that administration investigate the cost involved in obtaining a plastic Kermode Bear pin with "Terrace, B.C." denoted thereon, for use by delegates representing the District of Terrace at various conventions such as U.B.C.M., etc.

At this point, 3:50 p.m., committee member J. Talstra entered the meeting.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE — GRANT REQUEST

The committee reviewed correspondence from the Terrace and District Chamber of Commerce, outlining their requirement for funds concerning operation of the Information Booth for 1977.

It was recommended that a grant of $2,000 be approved for the Terrace and District Chamber of Commerce for use in operating the Information Booth during 1977.

It was further recommended that the District of Terrace not participate in an advertising program with the Trade and Commerce Magazine in the year 1977.

FERRY ISLAND — PARK FACILITY

The committee reviewed and discussed the topic of Ferry Island being designated as a park facility.

It was recommended that administration contact the Land Department, inquiring as to what methods are available for the District of Terrace to acquire tenure to Ferry Island, i.e., lease purchase, Crown grants, etc., for the purposes of eventual development of Ferry Island as a recreational park facility.

Approval was given to grant the Terrace and District Arts Council the sum of $1,620 with the proviso that the money not be used for capital projects.

No decision was taken on a request from the Terrace Public Library Association for a grant of $88,500.

Council approved in principle the concept proposed by Kalum Gardens Ltd., to convert 40 townhouse units under the Strata Titles Act, subject to a formal application for conversion being filed and the subsequent final terms and conditions being agreed upon and further that the applicant be required to pay the cost incurred by the district in processing said application and that the application be subject to the Municipal Act and the Strata Titles Act.

Fire Chief Cliff Best has been authorized to attend the 46th annual Fire Chief's College at Penitence May 2 to 6.

Mr. D. Sivyver will attend a Water and Waste School to be held May 16 to 20 at the University of B.C.

IN TERRACE REGION

Employment program creates 197 jobs

A total of $238,812 has been allocated from Phase One of the Ministry of Labour's Provincial Youth Employment Program to provide an estimated 197 summer jobs for students and unemployed youth in the Terrace region.

Phase One, is providing funds for jobs in non-profit organizations, farms, businesses, regional and improvement districts, municipalities, hospital and school boards and universities and community colleges.

The program has been designed to encourage employers around the province to hire young people in newly created jobs by assisting in payment of wages or salaries. Farms, businesses and non-profit organizations must apply for the funding before March 25 to be eligible. The Ministry of Labour will provide 13,300 jobs for youth through the program. In the Terrace area potential employers may contact the Provincial Youth Employment Program representatives, Jane Booth and Vince Heslenfeld, by calling 635-4977. Applications are also available through Ministry of Labour offices, provincial Government Agents and in many remote northern areas, at municipal halls.

Phase Two of the program provides $15 million through various ministries to hire youth for summer jobs in government. Thus far 16,000 student applications from across B.C. have been received by the program. Student names are being entered into a computer system called the Youth Referral Service which will cross-match students with the available government jobs. The first of its kind in Canada, the service makes it necessary for students to file only one application for a variety of government jobs this summer.

Costs can kill you - Canada

ADDRESS BY BERND K. KOKEN
PRESIDENT, ABITIBI-PRICE LUMBER LTD.
TO THE

69TH ANNUAL CLA CONVENTION

"Costs can kill you, Canada!" Consider this likelihood. Think about it. Ask: Could this really happen to us? In this country? In this day and age? With all the planning for a richer, fuller life that is so synonymous with our modern-day economic system?

Ladies and gentlemen, if you answered yes to all of these, you share with me my concerns. We're in this together!

I needn't tell you that Canadian industry is in trouble. That we are costing ourselves out of our markets. Particularly out of the huge market south of our border — our most important.

The lumber business in eastern Canada is no exception. In fact, it could be in even worse trouble than other industrial sectors.

If I were standing before you seven years ago — at the 62nd Annual CLA Convention — I would probably be addressing you on the subject of "The Decade of Marketing". You surely remember that's how we looked upon the 1970's. With high expectations for an extended age of prosperity. With an over-abundance of resources and a growing worldwide demand for Canada's materials and goods, we thought we had the world by the tail, didn't we?

So why have our priorities changed? Why am I asking you today to focus your attention on costs rather than on market research, sales strategy and price elasticity? Because the ravages of Canada's double-digit inflation in the mid-70's has pushed our costs of producing lumber far out of line with our major competitor.

If our costs are allowed to rise faster than our competitors', we will become a marginal supplier of lumber to the U.S. market. This means that our mills will be the first to close in a falling market and the last to reopen in a rising market.

With today's costs, the average Ontario or Quebec sawmill cannot compete with its counterpart in the southern U.S. And why do I pick on the southern industry as my target of comparison?

Although the lumber industry in the Pacific northwest is long established, the U.S. south is the new force to be reckoned with. They have the raw material. They have the human skills. They are close to the market. Southern stumpage fees are much less than in the Pacific northwest and their labour costs are some 40 percent lower.

To confirm the importance of the south, I quote Mr. Robert B. Pamplin, Chairman of the Executive Committee of Georgia-Pacific, as follows: "Most of our timber growing lands and plant facilities are located in the south which is the area nearest the market and with the best future of any other area in the United States. In fact, 70 percent of our operations and profits are coming from the south today. Most of our future growth will also be in this area."

Having identified our main competitor for the U.S. lumber market let me zero in on some specific problems and let me suggest some solutions to you.

By far, the most serious problem is labour cost. Wages and benefits paid in logging and milling represent about 50 percent of an eastern Canadian mill's total cost. There is no other expense in producing lumber here that has a greater impact on mill cost.

You will believe we are in trouble when I tell you that the base rate of $5.70 in a typical Ontario sawmill is 63 percent higher than that paid in a large southern mill. Adding fringe benefits, for total employee cost, raises the disparity to 70 percent.

How then, can we in Canada, compete with milling costs in the south?

An even worse situation prevails in the logging sector. The recently concluded Ontario Woodworkers Agreement sets a current base rate of $7.13 per hour. This means that Ontario logging wages are more than double the southern rates.

The delivered log cost to an integrated mill in Ontario is presently in the neighbourhood of $80 per 100 cubic feet. Even with higher stumpage, a southern mill pays only $65 per unit. Converted to lumber, this means the Ontario mill has a $30 per thousand board foot higher log cost than its southern competitor.

So we have a problem. What can be done to narrow the gap in mill and log costs?

First, our labour costs must become more competitive with southern costs. This cannot be done with one stroke of the pen. It cannot be done overnight. It will take time. More effective dialogue between management and unions and employees alike must be begun. The facts of survival must be brought home. Expectations must be lowered. Tell it like it is.

Nor must we be disillusioned into buying industrial peace today by settling with labour above the Anti-Inflation regulations. Though the AIB has rolled back numerous sawmill settlements, by doing so we are pledging ourselves to fulfilling unrealistic expectations at a later date.

The wage gap can be narrowed. It takes guts. It takes time. And the strength of your convictions to stay in business.

Second, more cooperation must be fostered to upgrade sawlog quality in eastern Canada. The U.S. south has a big advantage in log size, log quality and hauling distance.

Rationalization of sawlog supply could benefit many eastern Canadian mills. We should work closely with our sawmills in our areas to ensure the right kind of sawlog is being delivered to each mill with the lowest possible hauling cost. Let's stop putting pulpwood into sawmills and sawlogs into pulp mills. We should rearrange our sources of supply or our limit operations to improve log quality and to reduce costs as much as possible.

In comparison with our neighbours to the south, we in Canada, suffer not only from a wage gap — but also from a productivity gap. Lower production per manday combined with higher wage costs leaves eastern Canada far behind the south in unit labour costs.

While southern production of 2,500 board feet per manday and higher, is common; in eastern Canada only a few of the newest sawmills achieve this level of productivity. The vast majority of our industry is struggling along far below that level. Uncompetitive in cost. Losing money. Slowly going down the drain.

What's the reason? Well, it's twofold. To start with, southern mills are newer and more modern. This makes them less labour-intensive than Canadian mills in the east.

And then, there is attitude. In visiting my company's U.S. plants, I detect a greater commitment by workers to the job to be done. Attitudes that are much more in tune with the plant's goals. Less emphasis on the adversarial system so in vogue in Canada these days.

These attitudes result in better housekeeping, improved safety, less down time, less absenteeism and better workmanship. All this adds up to higher productivity.

Another problem. What can we do to raise productivity in eastern Canadian sawmills?

Well, to begin with, we must use our available cash resources to update and automate our mills more and more. Make them less labour-intensive. Though my company is completing construction of a new integrated sawmill this year, I can assure you that the next new installation will not be considered for many years — until our older mills have been modernized.

After all, who needs more lumber production? What we need is lumber produced at a more competitive cost.

Turning to the human element of productivity, we must foster better relations with employees by being more sensitive to their needs. We must be aware that job satisfaction, work environment, safety and so on, are important to the employees. Let's involve them more in the making of decisions that directly or indirectly affect their own workplace and lifestyle.

We as managers are more productive when we are happy. Happy with our work environment. When we are encouraged to participate in decisions. When we feel we are important to the well-being of our company, division or plant. We share with our workers many of the same aspirations. Let's redirect more of our energies from the adversarial side of management-labour relations to the cooperative side. We have done this in one of our sawmills with excellent productivity gains.

The last point I would like to raise deals with transportation. A wide disparity in the costs of rail shipments exists between eastern Canadian mills and those of the U.S. south.

Our per ton-mile costs of shipping lumber to major consuming points in the midwestern and eastern states averages four cents. This is 50 percent higher than the southern average of 2.7 cents per ton-mile.

How does this translate into dollars? Take for example, a point like Fort Wayne, Indiana. Fort Wayne is almost midway between the concentrated producing areas of Ontario and Quebec in the north and Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia in the south.

Allowing for the higher weight of yellow pine from the south, delivery cost of lumber from the Canadian locations comes in at $10 per 1,000 bd. ft. higher. This freight penalty — this ten dollar bill — comes right off the bottom line of our mills.

Not only are Canadian rail rates much higher than from the south, but they also contain many inequities. This leads me to believe that rates are based on what can be extracted from a particular company or district. In Canada, the tough negotiators seem to enjoy lower rates. The less determined pay more. It is clear to me that more attention must be devoted to this important cost element.

There is an obvious need for a more comprehensive approach by the industry in its negotiations and dealings with carriers. I suggest to you this need could best be filled by the formation of a joint Transportation Steering Committee.

This joint committee should draw on CLA and its sister organizations in eastern Canada for its membership. Among its terms of reference should be the following:

- How to minimize freight inequities within the eastern Canadian producing area.

- Develop a negotiating strategy aimed at gradually narrowing the gap with southern rates.

- How to encourage development of more competitive means of transportation.

- How to best negotiate with carriers — on a centralized or decentralized basis.

In conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, I remind you that we all share in higher expectations for our country. We all share the hopes for a brighter outlook for our industry in the east. We have the skills. We have the resources.

Surely the poor performance of our industry over the past couple of years points to a need. A need to make ourselves more cost competitive.

This is what it's all about!

1. Our most significant problem is in high wage and benefit costs. As a result, eastern Canada logging and sawmilling costs are far out of line with our major competitor — the southern sawmill.

The gap in employee costs must be gradually closed if we are going to stay in business. Tell your employees the facts. Be fair, but be tough.

2. Sawlog supply should be rationalized. Talk to the sawmills and logging operators in your area. Maybe the size or specie of sawlog at your mill can be better used at another mill. And vice versa. Upgrade to suit your equipment. Cut hauling costs by rearranging sources of supply.

3. Focus on raising productivity. First, by directing capital to mill improvements rather than to expansion. Direct your cash resources to modernization and automation.

Secondly, concentrate on improving worker attitude. One proven way is to enlist input of employees in the decisions that affect their working lives.

4. Freight costs to our major markets are too high. Set up a joint Transportation Steering Committee to study how best to deal with common carriers on an industry basis.

Lastly, we must find our voices as business people. Let's speak out clearly in behalf of the free enterprise system. It has done a lot to develop this great country. It can do much more.

I have spoken out in behalf of issues to make our lumber industry more viable. May I ask you to do so also?

Letters to the editor

Regressive policies

Mr. C. Sheldorf, MLA

Dear Sir:

I am writing to protest the regressive policies of your government in the area of early childhood education. I am the Supervisor of the Lazelle Pre-School, the only non-profit pre-school serving the District of Terrace and the surrounding area. Our school is presently enrolled to capacity and we have had to establish a waiting list. Yet, in spite of this enrollment, our school is having great financial difficulty, not through any mismanagement of funds but solely due to the lack of government support for this valuable community resource. Recently we have had to lay off one of our staff in order to keep our doors open.

Unlike most schools we rely on the fees which are paid by the parents. Many parents are subsidized by the Department of Human Resources at a fixed monthly rate. This obviously sets a maximum rate for those students whose parents receive no subsidy. The rate has remained the same for a number of years while costs for materials, space and salaries have risen. Furthermore, the government does not support this centre with any kind of maintenance grant. The net result is that even at capacity enrollment (established by licence) the school cannot continue to provide an adequate level of education for our children.

Unless there is a major change in the attitude of this government toward early childhood education, this school and many others like it throughout the province will be forced to close and this community will be much poorer for the loss. I urge your government to consider the role of early childhood education in our community and its place in the total education system in this province.

Yours truly,
Mary McNairnay
Supervisor
Lazelle Pre-School

Tanker route

Sam Bawlf, Minister
Ministry of Recreation and Conservation

Dear Sir:

It is our understanding that the Fish & Wildlife Branch has recently compiled certain information related to marine resources on the tanker approach route for the proposed Kitimat-Edmonton oil pipeline.

Some of this material is in the form of a map entitled "Northern B.C. Coastal Wildlife Resources Map". Other material consists of departmental deficiency statements on KPL's submissions to the National Energy Board and TERMPOL.

We think it important that such information be disseminated to the public, particularly as the stakes of the northwest coast are high. We would ask that this material be released as soon as possible, particularly so that it can be incorporated in submissions to the N.E.B. and the Thompson Inquiry.

We are also deeply concerned that the provincial resource agencies do not seem to be considering appearances before the Thompson hearings. Although the decision may be out of provincial hands, as Mr. Davis seems to suggest, the province will have a large part of its coastal resources jeopardized by the Kitimat project.

Because the branch represents the interest of all British Columbians in our wildlife it would seem that it should be pursuing policies of protection and conservation. We have to rely on the branch to ensure that our wildlife resources are not endangered by such projects as the Kitimat pipeline. We hope that you will recognize the need and importance of a Fish & Wildlife Branch submission to the Thompson Inquiry and seriously consider having the branch intervene in this process.

Sincerely
Hank Lavertu

Coalition

Methanol from wood

The Editor,
Dear Sir:

We thank you for drawing our attention, in your editorial, to the report published by Inter Group Counselling Economists Ltd. on the possibilities of production of Methanol from wood wastes. We have sent for a copy of this report.

We have already conducted some preliminary investigation into the production of wood alcohol and cedar oils from forest materials. We have discovered that, up to the Second World War, and for a few years in the late forties and early fifties, there were several portable stills operating in British Columbia. These stills were small units mounted on a wheeled trailer and towed to logging sites. Operated as a family business, all members of the family, gathered up the slash and unusable timber generated from the logging and, right on the logging site, boiled down this waste and distilled out the alcohol and oils. The boiled waste was then returned to the soil and usually plowed in by any machinery available.

How much production of alcohol and oil was achieved in those years are figures which we have been unable to obtain, however we do have figures which show how much waste is needed to produce one gallon of alcohol or oil.

These distilling operations apparently disappeared as family units broke up and higher wages were obtainable in other industries. Even today, there is some doubt as to whether operations such as these would be economically viable, however they could possibly be utilized as a supplementary income to, say a family farm operation or as summer employment for students or groups of unemployed.

We have designs of the type of still used in those days and the distillation process. Investigation does yet have to be conducted as to the regulatory restrictions, if any, covering this type of operation and as to the market for the product.

The B.C. Forest Service Research has carried out some investigative research recently into the possibilities of utilizing the principals of these portable operations to dispose of slash as an alternative to burning. As far as we know they have not yet reached any definite conclusions.

We would be interested in hearing from anyone who worked with one of these units in past years or saw one in operation. Should any of your readers be interested in obtaining details of the stills and method of production we will be pleased to supply them.

Yours sincerely,

Heritage Day holiday

Mrs. I. Campagnolo M.P.
Ottawa.

Dear Mrs. Campagnolo:

Can Canada afford another paid holiday? I'm referring to the proposed Heritage Day on the third Monday of February.

Remembering our forefathers is a great thing but we must remind ourselves that Canada is suffering from low productivity and high costs.

Governments too must watch their spendings, as last year governments, one level or another, spent 43 cents out of every dollar made in Canada. Do you know how many civil servants there are in Canada? I believe if Heritage Day becomes a paid holiday employers will be paying at least 125 million dollars for that day. Can the taxpayer and consumer afford this? No.

With this in mind I propose the following:

1. Heritage Day be in memory only and a normal working day.

2. Heritage Day be a holiday without pay.

3. Heritage Day be a normal working day with employees' wages going to charities of their choice.

Please consider these facts and ideas before making it law to have Heritage Day a paid holiday. A paid holiday will cost all employees more money which in turn will be passed onto the consumers and taxpayers.

Sincerely
Norah LeCleir

Pipeline

Dear Mr. Bowen-Colehurst:

Thank you for your letter of January 4 concerning the proposed Kitimat pipeline.

I share your concern for this proposal and have expressed my concern publicly to Mr. Jack Davis, the Minister of Transport for the province of British Columbia and also to the Honourable Romeo LeBlanc, the federal Minister of Environment.

I am Chairman of the Environment Council of Canada which is the advisory body to the Minister of Environment, thus I hope to be able to keep the dangers of this ridiculous project before those who will be called upon to make the decision in the final instance.

We must all keep up steady pressure and letters to the ministers are the most effective way of recording our concern.

I simply cannot understand people in our government who would contemplate such a project for the sole purpose of taking off-shore fuel along an extremely sensitive part of British Columbia, across Jasper National Park, through the farmlands of our prairie provinces, to an American market.

I am becoming concerned about the whole manner of Canadian responsibility for transporting fuel for the American public. It holds the potential for some very difficult international situations. I am well aware that this is causing concern within Canadian government circles also and I hope that these considerations may help us succeed in having projects such as this one stopped.

Sincerely yours,
Ian McT. Cowan
Professor of Zoology

Directors late

The Editor,

Dear Sir:

"Costly Directors Three Hours Late". (Herald, March 23), was extremely amusing to me and I feel that, as a taxpayer and resident of the Kitimat-Stikine Regional District, I have a right to comment on it.

Since their inception several years ago, I have opposed the concept of regional districts. To my mind they are unnecessary, costly and a threat to our freedom. I can think of no function of regional districts that could not be handled as well or better by provincial and municipal agencies already in existence.

Therefore, it is my belief that money spent in connection with this relatively new level of government is to a large extent wasted.

While I do not condone the waste of our tax money mentioned in your article, I do sympathize with Directors Ball and Armitage in their apparent lack of enthusiasm for Regional District meetings. I cannot help feeling that if the other directors, chairman, etc. would forget to show up, perhaps the whole ill-conceived structure would collapse and we would all feel a sense of mental and financial relief.

Yours truly,
Thomas Atrill

Postmasters seek historical material

The Editor,

Dear Sir:

The National Board of the Canadian Postmasters and Assistants Association has asked me to compile the history of our organization.

For this reason, I am asking your readers to contribute items of interest such as amusing anecdotes, photographs, clippings of important postal events and stories from the pioneer days of mail handling in Canada. I am especially interested in hearing from readers who have knowledge of the early days of the C.P.A.A.

All material will be acknowledged on arrival and a receipt issued. The material will be returned as quickly as possible.

Thanking you for your assistance, I am,

Yours truly,

Johnson Ski Shop

The Editor

Dear Sir:

My sympathies to Mickey Johnson. I cannot see anything wrong with his present ski shop. It has an individuality and attractiveness of its own. It is far neater than some of the other places of business, conducted from converted private homes in Terrace. If he were allowed to develop the land it sits on, Mr. Johnson would have a shop more eye appealing than the new sterile lump of buildings across the street from him — and many other commercially built buildings.

Yours sincerely
Thelma E. Lindstrom.

PIPELINE

There is a plan by two oil companies that could seriously threaten the proposed Kitimat to Edmonton pipeline.

Trans Mountain Pipeline Limited of Vancouver has joined Atlantic Richfield Company of Los Angeles in a proposal that involves an additional tanker port at Cherry Point, Washington, with the idea of running the oil to Edmonton through Trans Mountain's existing pipeline. The new plan, at first glance, seems to offer two prime considerations.

Firstly, the Cherry Point-Trans Mountain route would cost just $175 million. We recall the $500 million cost of the Kitimat route. Secondly, of course, it would eliminate the need for building a tanker port at Kitimat.

The new Trans Mountain scheme proposes that oil would flow from Alberta and northern British Columbia to various refineries located around Vancouver one third of the time. The rest of the time, oil unloaded at Cherry Point would be sent in the other direction through Trans Mountain's pipeline up to Edmonton. It would then go into the main Interprovincial Pipeline Company system and back down to the north central U.S. oil refineries, via existing lines.

If this proposal were to be accepted, it would mean a cut-back in potential tanker traffic along section of our British Columbia coastline and it is this factor which I know will be of interest to many of you.

I will continue to keep you informed of this most important development. Please understand that this plan is only at the proposal stage. Both the Trans Mountain and the Kitimat to Edmonton proposals will receive further judging by Canadian and U.S. regulatory agencies.

ANDREW R. THOMPSON NAMED TO CONDUCT INQUIRY. Meanwhile, the government will set up a Public Inquiry into the marine aspects of the Kitimat pipeline project. The inquiry which has been established under Part I of the Inquiries Act will be headed by Andrew R. Thompson, Professor of Law at the UNIVERSITY OF British Columbia.

Dr. Thompson has been authorized to hold public hearings within the province of British Columbia and has been directed to inquire into and report upon the social, environmental, fisheries and navigational safety aspects of the proposed tanker route and marine terminal at Kitimat, B.C. He will also receive public views on the broader concerns and issues related to oil tanker movements on the west coast.

Dr. Thompson is to report to the government on representations made to him about the terms and conditions to be imposed on the size, construction and operation of the terminal and tankers wishing to use the terminal if authority is given to establish a marine terminal at Kitimat, B.C.

Dr. Thompson will submit a report to Fisheries and Environment Minister Romeo LeBlanc and Transport Minister Otto Lang by the end of the year. Both ministers have concurred that Dr. Thompson's final report will be made available to the public.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLAND AIR TRAVEL REBATE PLAN

Also of interest to you is the fact that a special rebate plan has been officially established to compensate permanent residents of the Queen Charlotte Islands for air travel to and from Prince Rupert.

Under the plan, which will be in effect for one year, and which is retroactive to March 1, a rebate of $5 will be paid for each one way trip and $10 for each return trip on any third level air carrier providing scheduled service to the Islands.

The Malibu Princess, which had been used as a ferry on an interim basis, has now been removed from operation. During the three months of its service to the Charlottes, the Malibu Princess carried very few passengers, yet cost federal taxpayers $250,000. It is my hope that the new air rebate plan will provide a more general benefit to all the island residents, in a fairer and more efficient way.

Rebate cards, to be picked up when airline tickets are purchased, must be filled out and mailed, along with the receipt portion of the ticket, to the Regional Administration, Canadian Air Transportation Administration, Transport Canada, 739 West Hastings street, Vancouver, B.C. V6C 1A2.

A comprehensive public awareness and information program, to acquaint Island residents with the air rebate system, will be carried out by regional officials of Transport Canada.

Report from Victoria

by Cyril M. Shelford, MLA

Once again we see unemployment the top news story of the week with the latest report of over 900,000 people out of work across Canada, which is a disgraceful figure in a nation as rich as we are. This demands the undivided attention of both federal and provincial governments along with people that will send in ideas how best to resolve this problem. Certainly mere job creation programs which are a form of relief will not bring any long-term solution as all they do is take money by taxes from those that work, so they too have less to spend on goods and services.

There is only one long-term solution and that is bring our costs down to that of our competitors in other countries and this will require cooperation from all levels of society which has been and still is sadly lacking in our society for many years, where we see pressure groups springing up every day asking for more for themselves and trying to stop others from doing anything. In fact there has only been one project in the northwest during the life of the last government and the two years of this government that hasn't brought massive protests to have them stopped.

There is simply no way any government can effectively deal with the unemployment problem until attitudes change. Demands by pressure groups appearing under various names pressure governments into making excessive regulations that not only will but are strangling the economy and making our industry non-competitive on not only the markets of the world but right here at home where companies building large projects in B.C. can now import plywood from the

It is interesting to note that in 1971 the U.S. exported 132 million square feet of plywood and Canada 363 million square feet, nearly three times as much, but by 1975 the U.S. was up to 791 million while Canada had dropped to 282. The U.S. increased its export by six times while we lost ground by nearly one-third. To make it worse, in 1971 the U.S. sold only 18 million square feet to Canada. By 1975 they sold 394 million in Canada, 22 times as much. Government regulations also contribute to key company people being tied up with a mountain of reports instead of doing the work they should be doing and that is making the company efficient so it can make money which in turn enables it to hire people and expand production.

This was pointed out clearly this week by one group appearing before Caucus. They pointed out in survey 14 firms had contracts with some 14 different federal agencies, 19 B.C. agencies and eight municipal agencies. They were inspected by 41 inspectors which required the attention of senior plant personnel and are non-productive in nature.

One major company carried this survey further and compiled a list of government agencies that required reports for many reasons and no one report was acceptable to another, the survey showed, which should shock us all that they filed 421 reports in one year. It was made of:
29 monthly reports 348
12 quarterly reports 48
25 annual reports 25
for a total of 421
Man days used in making these reports is staggering and required positive government action to see if all these reports are of benefit to society at large.

From the Opposition

Opposition Members of the Legislature are convinced that the only hope for the poor people of B.C. is the removal from office of the present minister of human resources, according to William S. King, New Democratic M.L.A. for Revelstoke-Slocan and Opposition House Leader.

Speaking in the Legislature recently on a motion of non-confidence in the minister, William N. Vander Zalm, Mr. King said: "At this particular time when unemployment is over the 100,000 level, it is a natural consequence that more and more people will have to turn to the government and to the human resources ministry for sustenance to maintain themselves until once again they can become self-sufficient."

Mr. Vander Zalm "displays in his public statement and in his jibes across the floor of this legislature an attitude which convince the opposition that the only measure of benefit and the only measure of hope that people who are unfortunate in this province can look forward to is the removal of that minister from that particular portfolio."

Mr. King said he was "very alarmed to hear the minister's recent comment when the Member for Cowichan-Malahat (Mrs. Barbara Wallace) was describing the sorry and sad plight of an individual who was reduced to the position of begging on the streets of the capital city of British Columbia. The minister responded by suggesting that that was initiative."

Mr. King said "that rather contemptuous remark... prompted the motion of non-confidence in the minister's performance as chief custodian of human resources in this province. It

Bursaries available for second language

More than 600 bursaries, each worth $800, are now available from the Ministry of Education and the federal government to post-secondary students of British Columbia wishing to improve their knowledge of one of Canada's official languages.

The bursaries are offered as part of the Summer Language Bursary Program established six years ago to provide young Canadians with the opportunity to learn a second official language and become more familiar with the culture represented by that language.

More than 7,000 bursaries are available across Canada this year, an increase of 43 percent over last year. In his last annual report, Keith Spicer, the Commissioner of Official Languages recommended that the program be expanded to 18,000 bursaries by 1980.

Students receiving a bursary will be expected to spend a minimum of six weeks during the summer attending an immersion course in one of the official languages. Forty-three post-secondary institutions across Canada are participating in the program, including four in B.C. — Capilano College, Douglas College, the University of Victoria and the University of British Columbia.

In addition to providing academic instruction, the program is designed to keep the students fully immersed in a second language and to involve the students in a well-integrated program of social and cultural activities. To accomplish that, students are required to live in residence on campus or in private homes especially selected because of their second language settings.

Alcan to replace spillway

Alcan's manager of B.C. Power Operations, Lorne Duncan, announced recently that a project to replace the Skins Lake Spillway, a structure some 40 miles south of Burns Lake, B.C. where excess water is discharged from Alcan's Nechako Reservoir, is scheduled to begin about the 20th of this month by Commonwealth Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver, B.C.

The Skins Lake Spillway has been in service for 25 years. Its concrete structure has deteriorated to the point that it is no longer practical to continue repairs.

"Preparatory work, such as stockpiling of aggregate for concrete work and erecting a campsite, was done last year," said Mr. Duncan. "The bulk of the two year construction program is scheduled to be finished this year and will probably involve a crew of 50 workers at the peak of construction."

The new spillway, which will cost several million dollars to construct, will be similar in design to and will be located immediately downstream of the present one. "In fact," said Mr. Duncan, "we'll be using the same spillway gates again. While there won't be any changes in operating procedures for the new spillway, the construction of its foundations will necessitate a complete closure, for about seven to eight weeks, starting on April 12, 1977. Similar closures took place in 1972 and 1974 for periods up to eight weeks," he said.

"We'll be increasing the present spill rate of 6,000 cubic feet per second to 12,000 cubic feet per second for one prior to the closure," said Mr. Duncan. "By doing this, Cheslatta Lake will be surcharged higher than normal. During the following two to three weeks, water from Cheslatta Lake, combined with the increased flow from the Nautley River, should result in good water conditions at Vanderhoof. It is estimated that the Nechako River gauge reading at Vanderhoof, during the heavy pre-closure spilling, will be about 12 feet," according to Duncan.

"During the seven to eight week closure, the water from the Nautley River system, plus the local spring runoff, is estimated to result in a river level of about five to six feet at Vanderhoof," said Duncan. "It should, however, be pointed out that the Nautley River system is not controlled so its contribution to the total flow can only be roughly estimated," he said.

The replacement of the spillway will not affect the elevation of the Nechako reservoir, according to Duncan. "It is in no way connected with expansion of our generating facilities at Kemano," he said. "Alcan has no plans for development of additional power at Kemano. The fact is, in late 1978, with the completion of B.C. Hydro's line between Prince George and Terrace, Hydro will be supplying, from their own generating sources, the communities of Terrace, Kitimat and Prince Rupert, thereby freeing additional power for Alcan," he said.

The Nechako Reservoir, which supplies water for Alcan's hydro-electric generating station at Kemano, drains almost 5,400 square miles and stretches from West Tahla Lake, 10 miles east of Kemano, to Knewstubb Lake, some 150 miles to the east.

Alcan increases prices

Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. announced that its export price for primary aluminum ingot will be increased by three cents to (U.S.) 51 cents per pound, C.I.F. major world ports, except Latin America and West Africa where the C.I.F. price is increased to 52.5 cents per pound from 49.5 cents per pound. The changes are effective April 1.

In the United States, Alcan Aluminum Corporation is increasing its ingot price by three cents to 51 cents per pound on new orders, effective immediately and on existing orders for shipment on and after April 1. Alcan Aluminum Corporation also will be announcing price changes on certain semi-fabricated products shortly.

In Canada, the company is making the necessary applications for price changes to the Anti-Inflation Board and Alcan Canada Products Limited, the subsidiary responsible for Alcan's Canadian manufacturing and sales activities, will be advising its customers accordingly.

Prospectus requirements for strata lots

The Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, the Honourable Hugh Curtis, recently stated that legislation will be introduced during this session to eliminate the retroactive requirement for a prospectus for all strata lots except those in 'support structure' strata subdivisions.

He indicated that there had been serious complaints from several regional districts and from many MLA's about subdivision of land without the approval of the approving officer.

"Our primary intent in passing Orders-in-Council No. 645 to 648," said Curtis, "was to discourage, if not to prevent, further 'support structure' strata subdivisions and to make it illegal to sell such strata lots without a prospectus — a requirement that in many cases would effectively prohibit the sale of such 'support structure' strata lots."

He pointed out that these orders-in-council also made a prospectus a requirement for all unsold strata lots in strata plans of more than five lots where the strata plan was deposited in the Land Registry Office after June 1, 1975.

"While I believe that a prospectus is an essential requirement in order to protect purchasers," said Curtis, "I do not think it is fair or in the best interest of the housing industry, particularly in today's soft market, to make such a requirement retroactive for legitimate developments."

Hon. Mr. Curtis explained that Order-in-Council No. 890 passed March 10, 1977 authorizes the Superintendent of Insurance to exempt the non-'support structure' strata lots from the prospectus requirements of the Real Estate Act where the strata plan was deposited in the Land Registry Office on or before February 17, 1977.

"The whole problem started," explained Hon. Mr. Curtis, "with amendments to the Strata Titles Act proclaimed on September 1, 1975 — these eliminated the requirement of municipal approval for a 'support structure' strata plan — essentially a strata subdivision of land rather than of a building."

Hon. Mr. Curtis went on to say that in 1976, he introduced amendments to the Strata Titles Act which would have corrected this deficiency but the amendments were not enacted.

Hon. Rafe Mair, Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs indicated that he cooperated fully with the Honourable Hugh Curtis in the preparation of these orders-in-council and that he and Hon. Mr. Curtis had jointly agreed that further legislation will be introduced to rectify the situation.

S.E.P. Public Enquiry Report released

Salmon and trout need better protection; fisheries agencies should be more aggressive in defending the environment, for people as well as fish; salmonid enhancement is a good idea and governments should act on it without further delay, starting with the rehabilitation of damaged streams and watersheds: those are some of the "dominant moods" of the B.C. community recorded in the official report on the Salmonid Enhancement Program Public Inquiry, released March 24.

An inquiry team chaired by consultant Glenn Sinclair held 18 hearings in 17 communities last November to solicit comment on the proposed cooperative federal-provincial 15-year, $400 million program to restore Pacific salmon and sea run trout to their former abundance.

The report summarizes 248 presentations from sports and commercial fishermen, conservation and environmental organizations, municipalities, unions, the forest industry and private individuals.

Major concerns expressed during the inquiry process were: for stiffer penalties for abuse of the salmonid resources damage to fish habitat and for the appointment of more field officers to enforce tougher, more restrictive regulations. Many presentations called for closer regulation of both commercial and sports catches by Canadians, as well as "strict and vigorous enforcement of Canada's 200 mile offshore limits" to curb foreign fishermen. A system of bonding of individuals and corporations carrying out development in a watershed is suggested, to encourage adherence to regulations designed to protect fish streams. Assessment of the costs of rehabilitation against anyone causing environmental damage is also suggested. Fisheries management agencies are urged to carry out a vigorous program of education to make the general public more aware of the value of the salmonid resources and the need to protect them.

The report notes that the public are highly critical of the "disregard governmental agencies have shown in the past for the protection of the environment," and says, "The public therefore wants Fisheries and Marine Service to monitor and report...harmful effluents, bad logging and land clearing practices, dredging and channelization activities, plus naturally caused problems and then indicate to the public what is necessary to overcome these problems." Fisheries and Marine Service is asked to "take a more assertive role in leading the cause of environmental protection," and to exert leadership with other government agencies and industry "where there is too callous a disregard for, and lack of sensitivity to, what members of the B.C. community feel are crucial aspects of their 'quality of life' experiences."

The report notes the belief of many of the public that there should be no further installation of hydro power dams on "major salmonid-bearing river systems," and says the public feels that hydro developers should have to obtain approval of fisheries and other resource agencies that might be affected, before applying to build a dam, rather than the agencies having to act as intervenors to the developers' proposals.

As for the Salmonid Enhancement Program itself, "The public have been aware of the need for and have favoured enhancement for many years and cannot understand why action on a large scale has not already been initiated." A majority of the interested public give priority to "natural rehabilitation" work, concentrated on small streams "where projects would be inexpensive but effective," over artificial means of enhancing fish stocks. The latter should be used "only after semi-natural processes have been exhausted." A graph accompanying the report indicates that very few presentations were made in favour of hatcheries, as opposed to many calling for restoring stream habitat and using measures such as incubation boxes, fry transplants, and other techniques that rely on the maintenance of the natural environment.

The value of local knowledge and the desirability of meeting local priorities is stressed in a section recommending provision for increased participation by the public in the Salmonid Enhancement Program and in fisheries management in general. The report notes that government agencies were criticized for having "seemingly ignored or rejected" information offered them by the public and that "There must be an increased willingness on the part of government agencies to receive, consider and evaluate information from outside sources, with the view to providing at least an adequate explanatory response if acceptance is not feasible." Among the recommendations made to facilitate public participation are additional funding for stream cleanups and similar projects to be carried out by local groups; the employment of commercial fishermen on stream rehabilitation work in their off-season, and the expansion of citizen advisory committees.

Other areas of interest are the implementation of a salt water sports fishing license, the institution of a royalty "financing" fee for the fish processing industry, redesigning of the commercial salmon fishing license system and cooperation between the Fisheries and Marine Service and native peoples to end abuse of the Indian food fishery.

Complete text of the report on the Salmonid Enhancement Program Public Inquiry is available on request from the Information Centre, Fisheries & Marine Service, 1090 West Pender Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6E 2P1.

Independent Schools Convention

Independent school supporters from all over British Columbia will gather at the Richmond Inn during the school spring break for the second Independent Schools Convention.

Organizers of the convention, sponsored by the Federation of Independent School Associations (FISA), are anticipating a good turnout of independent school trustees, teachers, parents and supporters, the interest being considerably heightened by the anticipated introduction of legislation regarding independent schools during the current session of the Legislature.

Dr. Donald A. Erikson, of Simon Fraser University, will deliver the keynote address on "Schools: The Challenge of Choice", the theme of the convention. Dr. Erikson is an internationally recognized authority on independent schools, school administration and school law and the author of numerous books, monographs and magazine articles.

During the two day convention, workshops are planned under the following headings:

- 1) The politics of educational controls
- 2) Legislation and independent schools

3) Funding and controls in the public schools

4) Alternative philosophies of education

5) Special education in the small school

6) The teacher-trustee partnership.

The convention is open to school trustees, teachers, parents and supporters of all independent schools regardless of whether the schools are officially affiliated with the FISA or not.

During the Thursday evening convention dinner, the convention will be addressed by ex-FISA president, Douglas Harker and entertained by the Mennonite Educational Institute choir.

The FISA has been active on behalf of the independent schools of British Columbia for the last decade and officially represents schools enrolling more than 90 percent of the 23,000 students attending independent schools throughout the province.

Dr. John F. Waller, president of the FISA, has encouraged all independent schools "to delegate representatives to this Independent Schools Convention during a year which will mark a turning point for independent schools of the province."

12,000 New Companies in B.C.

"For the first time in British Columbia's history, more than 12,000 new companies have been registered in one year by the Companies Branch," K. Rafe Mair, Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, said recently.

"The increase in the number of incorporations indicates growing confidence in the economy and is an accurate barometer of business and commercial activity within the province," added the minister.

The information is contained in the Annual Report for 1976 of the Registrar of Companies. "The new companies incorporated represent an increase of 20 percent over 1975. Extra-provincial companies are also up 21 percent, an indication that business is moving into the province," added the minister.

Mr. Mair said that amendments to the Companies Act, effective August 1976, provided for the transfer of a corporation to or from reciprocating jurisdictions, either provincial or federal. During the period covered, three British Columbia companies moved out of the province while three companies have transferred their operations to B.C.

The Registrar of Companies is responsible for the administration of the British Columbia Companies Act, the Societies Act and other related statutes. The office also maintains filed information available to the public. Last year, 130,104 searches of records on companies, societies and cooperatives were handled. A search for names of directors can be made by telephone, but detailed information such as encumbrances is best given by mail, telex or telegraph. The 58,588 encumbrances in 1976 included the registration of mortgages, debentures, trust deeds, bills of sale, chattel mortgages, conditional sales agreements and assignment of book accounts.

Comparing 1976 figures to those of 1975, Mr. Mair said, "I am pleased to see all have increased substantially, except for the registration of co-operatives." Statistics for the Companies Office include the registration of Companies, societies, co-operatives, partnerships and encumbrances.

"Not only have incorporations increased in number, but they have also increased in rate," Mr. Mair said, "usually the peak months for incorporations are April, May and June and then the pace slackens. In 1976 the number remained constant throughout summer and fall and actually increased in November and December."

Hydro encourages insulating

Details of B.C. Hydro's insulation financing plan are available now from participating insulation installers and retailers throughout Hydro's service area.

Under the energy savings and financing assistance plan, Hydro may finance for a period of up to two years the installation of insulation in walls, ceilings and floors in existing homes, provided the installation is completed by an approved insulation firm and meets B.C. Hydro and trade standards.

"Do-it-yourselfers" also may take advantage of the plan. Retail sale of insulation materials sufficient to meet B.C. Hydro and trade standards may be financed when purchased from approved insulation retailers.

The Hydro program has attracted wide interest from insulation manufacturers and contractors and most dealers in the province are expected to participate.

Approved dealers are announcing their participation in the program through newspaper advertisements and displays at their place of business.

Homeowners may finance up to $500 of the cost of the installation or any part of it provided credit approval is obtained from Hydro. Agreements may be for six, 12, 18 or a maximum of 24 months. Minimum amount that can be financed is $50 with a minimum monthly payment of $5.

In the interest of energy conservation, Hydro is offering financing at the low rate of 10 percent interest per annum on the declining balance.

The Hydro insulation financing plan is available for installations in existing single-family homes, duplexes and rooming houses which originally were single-family dwellings. It is not available for insulation installations in apartment buildings or commercial or industrial premises.

To be eligible, a buyer must have a registered interest in the property where the insulation is installed, either by owning the dwelling outright, or subject to a registered mortgage or registered agreement for sale. Credit approval generally will be granted a buyer who has a B.C. Hydro account in good standing.

Minimum resistance values required for insulation installations made under the plan are as follows: ceilings R28 (R27 will be accepted with batts only); walls R12; floors exposed to outside temperature R20; concrete walls R8.

The Hydro financing plan is scheduled to run for six months, from April 1 to September 30. It is part of a major thrust by Hydro to encourage heavy insulation in households to help bring about efficient use of energy and reduction of waste.

In addition, of course, many homes not insulated to recommended standards could reduce their heating bills substantially and improve their year-round comfort by taking advantage of the insulation financing plan.

In fall, 1975, when Hydro instituted an advertising campaign promoting insulation, there was an increase estimated at 10,000 in the number of existing homes in which insulation was upgraded to modern standards. Last fall, in the second year of the campaign there was a further increase estimated at 13,500 homes.

Come rain or come shine

Soon the aroma of hot cakes and maple syrup, sugar-cured bacon and hot chocolate will drift across the Garibaldi Highlands as the staff of the British Columbia Lions Society for Crippled Children reads Camp Squamish for its regular season of more than 300 disabled campers from the north and lower mainland.

These handicapped youngsters have been looking forward to a holiday at the Lions Easter Seal Camp for several months. Some of them will be returning for the second time. The Lions bought St. David's School for Boys and turned it into a year round camp for the disabled of all ages just last year. The summertime is reserved strictly for the traditional Lions Easter Seal Camp for handicapped children.

One of its main attractions is riding Kelly the horse.

The children also like the hikes in the woods by wheelchair, games, competitions, arts and crafts and singing songs around the fire at bedtime.

Within days the ground digging will begin for the new $260,000 covered pool with special wheelchair ramp that goes right into the water. With luck the pool will be open for this summer's campers.

Credit Union practice adopted by banks

The concept of the credit union Plan 24 Savings Account, which has been calculating interest on minimum daily balances for credit union members throughout British Columbia since 1968, has finally been adopted by a chartered bank.

On Friday, March 11, the Bank of British Columbia announced an account which will also calculate interest on daily balances. Commenting on this development, George S. May, General Manager of B.C. Central Credit Union made the following comments: "Unlike the credit union's Plan 24 which has no minimum deposit requirement, the Bank of British Columbia account requires a minimum daily balance of $500 to earn interest."

Since this money must be deposited at a relatively low interest rate versus longer-term deposits, customers who can maintain balances of $500 or more would be wiser to place this minimum amount in one year deposits where as much as 25 percent higher interest can be earned."

Terrace Moose Lodge helps Children's Hospital

Children's Hospital was presented with cheques totalling $10,116.25 in aid of the development of new programs in child care at the recent B.C. Moose Association mid-winter conference held in Richmond.

Mary DesRoches, public relations officer at Children's Hospital accepted a cheque for $846.25 from Mr. John Zak, secretary of Terrace Lodge No. 1820, Loyal Order of Moose.

The dollars collected for March of Dimes help Children's Hospital in many ways. The most important of which are programs and services which are not funded by the Provincial Government. Among the many important services and programs which depend solely on March of Dimes for funding is the Newborn Screening Program which operates at a cost of $20,000 per year. The purpose of this program is to take urine tests of every baby born in British Columbia. (Approximately 95 percent are now covered by means of a kit supplied to all new mothers.) Early alerting to amino acid abnormalities that are detected during the first three months of life through these tests can be neutralized by proper diet and medication resulting in the prevention or reduction of serious irreversible damage to the central nervous system.

Another program is the Dental, which requires $23,800 to operate this year. The purpose of this program is to provide a free dental service to children of low income families whose parents cannot afford to pay for dental services for their children. Last year 2,608 children received treatment through the dental program. Approximately 44 dentists provide this service free to the children on the program.

Children's Hospital Diagnostic Centre is another important program supported by March of Dimes. The Diagnostic Centre offers a new pattern of care for children. It is a one stop unit for evaluation and assessment of multi-handicapped youngsters. Last year alone the centre provided treatment for over 5,400 children. The cost of operating the Diagnostic Centre for 1977 is budgeted at $79,335. These are services not covered by the government at the centre.

Your dollars go towards the support of the Breast Milk Bank at the hospital. The hospital supplies breast milk to all infants requiring this service to hospitals across the province. The breast milk is donated by breast feeding mothers who have more milk than their own infants need. The milk is picked up by the hospital, pasteurized and frozen until ready to use. This service has helped many young infants and premature babies throughout British Columbia who could not tolerate anything other than breast milk. These babies would not have survived without this service.

As a result of the closure of the pediatric unit at St. Paul's Hospital, it was necessary for Children's Hospital to provide an improved coverage in our Emergency Department. This program is funded and supported by March of Dimes dollars.

Unfinished space under the hospital's Care By Parent Unit has been converted to serve as Ambulatory Clinics. These new clinics are providing service for the disciplines of surgery, neurology and psychiatry. This is a major boon to Children's Hospital and again March of Dimes money is lending support to this area.

It is essential that small children who are patients in the hospital, participate in an organized play program. This activity reduces the trauma of hospitalization as well as that of separation from parents and family. The Playroom Program which costs $22,708 to operate is supported totally by your dollars.

Research carried out at Children's Hospital into the development of new programs in child care and improved methods in the delivery of health care to children is made possible through March of Dimes contributions. It may be of interest to note it was because of research studies we developed, the following programs have radically improved the delivery of health care to children:

- (a) Day Care Surgery
- (b) Children's Hospital Diagnostic Centre
- (c) Care by Parent Unit and program
- (d) Ambulatory Unit
- (e) Special studies of groups of handicapped children with multiple diseases who have been assessed at the Children's Hospital Diagnostic Centre. The purpose of these studies is to improve the program in the Diagnostic Centre related to a specific group of children, such as those with hearing disorders or blindness.

JOHN ZAK, Secretary of Terrace Lodge No. 1820, Loyal Order of Moose presents Miss Mary DesRoches, public relations officer at Children's Hospital in Vancouver with a cheque in the amount of $846.25. This donation will lend support towards the many new developments and improved methods in the delivery of child care underway at Children's Hospital. 72 children from Terrace and area have been hospitalized at Children's Hospital during the past year. While 10,200 from areas throughout British Columbia received assessment and prescribed care at the hospital's ambulatory clinics.

Royal Canadian Legion (Pacific) Branch No. 13 Terrace

by MaryAnn Burdett

March 31 is the last day to get those membership dues paid up. Ordinary and associate members wishing continuity of membership must be paid up by that date. Preliminary figures show our total membership at over 1000. With that amount of people we should certainly be able to accomplish a lot of good works in the name of the Royal Canadian Legion, so let's all get paid up and get involved.

April 29th is, according to our entertainment chairman the tentative date of an Early Bird Night. This is just one of many upcoming events to keep in mind. More immediately of interest to all members is the next General Meeting upcoming on April 12. This is the place to air your ideas and have your say in the workings of the Branch.

The Associates meeting last Tuesday had one of the better turnouts of members so far. Twenty-six members were in attendance.

Comrade Jim Duffy was elected Sergeant-at-Arms. The date of the model truck Raffle was set for April 30.

A challenge has been issued and accepted between the Terrace Associate membership and the Kitimat Associate membership to enter very special crafts in the Annual Outhouse Races at Lakelse Lake sponsored by the local Centennial Lions Club. These most unusual watercraft will be manned by enthusiastic crews in a comradely spirit of competition and rivalry between the two branches. It is good to see the communication and association between branches and it is understood by the writer that much was accomplished in furthering this when Comrade Stan McKay and Lloyd Scott visited with the newly operable Kitimat Associates a couple of weeks back. They were warmly received and enjoyed the visit greatly. Word has

Prince Rupert Harbour contract

Work will begin in a few weeks on a new $10,648,000 transit shed at Fairview General Cargo terminal at Prince Rupert Harbour.

Iona Campagnolo, MP for Skeena, on behalf of Transport Minister Otto

Lang, announced that a contract had been awarded to Walter Cabott Construction Ltd., of Port Moody, B.C. which submitted the lowest tender. The project will be completed by this summer.

The 40-acre terminal, which represents a $27 million investment by the federal government in the future of Prince Rupert is scheduled for completion this year and will handle forest and agricultural products, general cargo, ores and partly processed mineral concentrates.

Obituary

Wayne Leslie Ovelson passed away suddenly at 29 years of age on March 29, pre-deceased by father, Leslie Ovelson, August 4, 1963.

Wayne was born in Edmonton, Alberta on August 22, 1947. He lived in Tofield, Alberta for nine years before he came to Terrace. He graduated from Skeena High in 1966 and worked for Sight and Sound for nearly ten years.

He is survived by his wife, Carol, and two sons, Kevin and Chris; mother, Gertrude Ovelson and five sisters, Laverne de Kergommeaux and Gail McHugh of Elk Point, Alberta; Ann Johnston of Parksville; Joyce Hipsley of Williams Lake and Deborah of Terrace.

Funeral services were held in the United Church on Saturday, March 12 at 2 p.m. Captain Bill Young officiated. Interment was in Kitsumkalum Cemetery. Pallbearers were Graham Scott, James Duffy, Jerry Jackaluck, Tom Coxon, Mark Croft and Jack Greaves.

Honorary pallbearers were Gordon McConnell, James Lynch, Ken Cobbs and Wilf McKenzie.

In lieu of flowers donations were sent to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver.

Breaker...breaker

A few interested CBers have asked for information about various dances, jamborees, etc. that are coming up, so here is a list of the events that I am aware of.

The Cobra Radio Club of Vancouver will be hosting their first annual Anniversary Dance in the Queens Park Arena Friday, April 15. No tickets will be sold at the door. Chicken dinner at 19:45 (7:45 p.m.), dancing from 21:00 to 01:00. $7.00 per person.

Bonanza Rebels CB Radio Ass'n. will be staging their 5th annual "Worlds Highest Jamboree" at Hyatt, Lake Tahoe, Nevada April 22, 23 and 24. First prize is $500 or complete base station; 2nd prize is an AC-DC Television; third prize is a Polaroid SX 70 camera; plus many more prizes. Admission $2 each, includes door prize chances and admission to the dance. Write Box 1074, Zephyr Cove, Nevada, U.S.A.

100 Mile House and District CBers and Lakeland Buckaneers are hosting the "South Cariboo Campout" at the Unicorn Guest Ranch at 100 Mile House, B.C. May 20, 21, 22 and 23. Prizes and fun for all. More information later in the "CB Round Table".

Closer to home we have the First Annual Rain Dance in Kitimat in the Legion Hall June 4. Lots of prizes. Tickets at $7 per person are available from Super Thief (lower 16), Greyhound or Joker. Proceeds to "Jaws of Life".

Miracle QSL Swap and CB Club are sponsoring a Jamboree at the McCurdy Park and Fairgrounds in Corunna, Michigan, June 24, 25 and 26. Featured will be a "Male Beauty Contest" and talent show. Many fantastic prizes and trophies. $6 per party. Entertainment and fun for all. Contact Virginia Watson, 337 Lafayette Blvd., Owosso, Michigan, U.S.A. 48867.

Now here is a "must". The Spruce Capital CB Jamboree in Prince George July 29, 30, 31 and August 1 at the Exhibition Grounds. Chuckwagon and Chariot races, Pancake breakfast, outdoor barbeque, square dancing, loggers sports, awards night and dance (with live music) and many other features. $10 per person, teenagers $5 and children free. Twenty percent discount if you register before March 31 or 10 percent discount if postmarked before June 31. We still have some of the registration forms here or you can contact P.O. Box 2005, Prince George, B.C. All profits will be donated to the United Appeal.

The following week, August 5, 6 and 7 the Kamloops Ratchet Jaws are promoting their first annual jamboree at Black Pines, B.C. Raffle on a Browning "Golden Eagle" plus at least 10 other CBs. Fun and prizes for all. $12 per couple, $6 single, 16 and over. Under 16-free. Contact: Jamboree Coordinators, 1126 Pembroke, Kamloops, B.C.

You will just have enough time to drive from Kamloops up to Whitehorse, Yukon for their jamboree the following weekend. That is the 12th, 13th and 14th of August. Little Mama has an application form that we are trying to locate and it has more information on it. By the time you are reading this, we should have it. Give her a call on 01 or 11; or contact me on 19 days or lower 16 evenings.

If you can afford the time it would make quite a trip to visit Prince George, the following weekend in Kamloops and then up to Whitehorse, coming back down the coast by ferry.

We were quite surprised to find that Bunny and Blue Bronco had never been asked to join the B.B.C. Cedar Wood took care of that and their application is now being processed. If there are others of you that have not been asked, or if you would like to join, contact a member, Super Cookie or myself and we will get an application for you. Don't forget, like I did last week, the next meeting will be here at my twenty, Thursday, April 7. (Not the first, as I wrote last week). The meeting starts at 19:30 hours. (7:30 p.m.)

Tally-ho, gotta go, catch you later. This is XM14-982, QRT.

Kamloops-Shuswap Merchants, a hard-skating, well-drilled team won the Terrace Jaycees Annual Hockey Tournament with an 11-6 victory over the Terrace All Stars Sunday evening.

Bob Cooper of Terrace was the outstanding figure in this game as he dented the twine four times, one in the first period, once in the second and twice in the third.

Kamloops took a four goal lead in the final game before Terrace could get untracked and at the end of the first period it was 4-1 for Kamloops.

Terrace came out flying in the second and outscored Kamloops four to two, drawing within two goals at the end of the period.

Kamloops scored four more in the third as the tired Terrace team wilted under their relentless attack. Terrace could only manage one marker in the final frame. This was the third game of the day for Terrace and the first for Kamloops.

Over 800 people were on hand to witness the final game of the tournament.

The Most Valuable Player award went to Ernie Paetsch of Prince Rupert, Best Goaltender to Joe Florence of CPA, Best Defenseman to Randy Villeneuve of Kamloops and Best Forward went to Dan Rota of Kamloops.

KAMLOOPS 11 SMITHERS 0
Kamloops-Shuswap Merchants scored one in the first, seven in the second and three more in the third to blast the Smithers team 11-0 in the first game of the tournament. Lorne Grennen picked up a hat trick for Kamloops in this game and Randy Villeneuve added two goals and two assists. Darrel Zelinski also had four points. Kamloops outshot Smithers 45 to 15.

TERRACE 9 KITIMAT 6
In the second game of the tourney Terrace won over Kitimat, scoring three straight goals in the third period to wrap up the victory. Rick Lewis fired two goals and picked up one assist as did Rino Michaud to lead Terrace to victory. Rick Wakita scored two and added an assist for Kitimat in a losing cause.

CPA 4 HAZELTON 0
The late arrival of CPA delayed this game by eight hours and the coast team only had three hours sleep before game time, still they had enough to win over Hazelton. Good goaltending by Joe Florence was the margin of victory as the Hazelton squad outshot CPA 35 to 29. Dennis Minns scored two; one in the first and one in the third to lead his team, CPA, to the win.

PRINCE RUPERT 3 PRINCE GEORGE 2

Game number four was one of the closest of the tournament. Each team scored one in the first period, the second was scoreless, but Prince Rupert outscored Prince George 2-1 in the third. Ernie Paetsch played the first of many outstanding games in the Rupert nets.

QUESNEL 9 CASSIAR 1
The fifth game of the event saw Quesnel score six goals in the final frame to wipe out the hapless Cassiar team by a 9-1 count. Cassiar who have natural ice in their arena have had only three days of practice this year due to milk weather conditions and were no match for the Quesnel squad. Lorne Perry was the scoring hero of this game with four goals and one assist.

KITIMAT 9 SMITHERS 0
Exit Smithers, this was the second loss in the double knockout tourney for the Smithers sextant and bounced them out of the picture. Rick Wakita was again the scoring leader for Kitimat as he picked up another three points. Once again Kitimat scored most of their points in the third period, four of the nine.

KAMLOOPS 19 STEWART 1
For the second game in a row Lorne Brennan scored a hat trick to lead Kamloops. Randy Villeneuve chipped in with two goals and three assists and Dan Rota picked up three goals and three assists. This was strictly no contest as the Kamloops team completely dominated the game from start to finish.

PRINCE GEORGE 9 HAZELTON 3

This game was tied after the first frame but Prince George scored five times in the second to build up a commanding lead. The period ended 7-3 for Prince George. Scoring was evenly distributed between the George players. Mike Lazotte was a standout for Hazelton and Dave Bellamy for George. After this loss Hazelton was out.

CPA 3 TERRACE 2
This was one of the closest games of the entire tournament. Shots on goal were 28 for CPA and 26 for Terrace. Brian Mammel scored with less than two minutes remaining in the contest to give CPA a 3-2 victory. CPA led 2-1 after the first frame. The second period was scoreless. Terrace tied the count at 2-2 midway through the third, setting the stage for Mammel's winning marker. Bob Fredrick scored two of the CPA goals.

CASSIAR 9 STEWART 7
This was the final game of the tournament for Stewart as this was their second loss. Stewart led 3-2 at the end of the first period but Cassiar found the range in the second, scoring six times to three for Stewart and wrapping up the victory. The two teams each scored one in the final frame. John Drzimotta was the scoring hero for Cassiar with his three goals and one assist. Dave Prokopchuk scored three for Stewart.

PRINCE RUPERT 4 QUESNEL 3

Quesnel suffered their first defeat of the weekend in game number 11. Prince Rupert fired 44 shots at the Quesnel cage for their win. Doug Sheppard, one of the many outstanding players in the tourney, scored twice and picked up an assist to lead Rupert. Kevin Devito played a very fine game in the Quesnel nets.

TERRACE 3 KITIMAT 2

Kitimat held a one goal lead at the end of the first frame but could not hang on as Terrace scored one in each of the second and third periods to win. Steve Dillabough scored two goals and had one assist to lead the Terrace team in scoring. This was a close checking affair with Terrace outshooting Kitimat 20 to 14. Exit Kitimat.

KAMLOOPS 2 CPA 1

Joe Florence in the CPA nets played his finest game of the tourney in this one as Kamloops fired 42 shots at him, many of them labelled. But Joe was equal to the occasion for all but two. Kamloops completely dominated this game and but for Florence's fine performance would have won by a much larger margin. Kamloops players Darrel Zelinski, Dan Rota and Randy Villeneuve again were the dominating figures in the game.

PRINCE GEORGE 8 QUESNEL 2

Quesnel bowed out after this one. Prince George fired three goals in the first, three in the second and scored two in the third, completely dominating the contest. All Quesnel could manage was two goals — one in the first and their last in the second. Glen McEachern led the Prince George attack with two goals and one assist.

CPA 11 CASSIAR 5

CPA really turned it on for this one, scoring five times in the first period, twice in the second and added three more in the third. Cassiar had two markers in the first, two more in the second and one in the final frame. Wayne Basford scored three straight goals in the third period to lead CPA to their 11-5 victory. Dennis Minns also picked up three points for CPA with a goal and two assists. John Drimotta had three assists for Cassiar who suffered their second loss and were out.

KAMLOOPS 7 PRINCE RUPERT 0

Prince Rupert took their first loss of the weekend against Kamloops who outshot Rupert to the tune of 58-11. Ernie Paetsch probably won the MVP trophy in this game alone. Kamloops just kept coming at him time after time. Ernie stopped 19 shots in the first, 19 in the second and 20 in the third. Dan Rota was again one of the best on the ice for Kamloops.

TERRACE 4 PRINCE GEORGE 3

Terrace All Stars scored a power play goal with 5:45 left in the game and held on for the rest of the match for a hard earned, well deserved victory. Terrace had a one goal lead after the first. Prince George tied the count before the second period ended. Terrace went ahead again in the third only to have George tie the game again. Larry Hackman provided the heroics, flipping in Marcel Tookenay's pass. Dick Shinde chipped in with two assists. This was Prince George's second loss of the weekend and were on their way home.

PRINCE RUPERT 3 CPA 2

The young Prince Rupert team played their best game of the tourney in this one, battling toe to toe with the bigger and more experienced squad from Vancouver. Ernie Pretsch was again the dominant figure as he turned aside 36 CPA shots. Prince Rupert had a two goal lead after the first period, coming from behind as CPA scored the first marker of the contest. The second frame was scoreless and each of the teams found the range once in the final frame. CPA fired 15 shots at the Rupert cage in the final period but could not stave off elimination from the tournament.

TERRACE 4 PRINCE RUPERT 3

Prince Rupert finally bowed out of the tourney but not until they put up a great fight against Terrace. Goaltending was again terrific for the Rupert squad. Paetsch was hurt by a high hard shot at the 12:20 mark of the second period. In came Ray Cossetti and played a strong game the rest of the way. Rae Rowe scored with less than seven minutes left in the game and put Terrace into the finals with Kamloops.

KAMLOOPS 11 TERRACE 6

A very tired Terrace team took to the ice against the smooth skating and passing squad from Kamloops.

Kamloops had a four goal lead by the end of the first period and at one time enjoyed a 4-0 lead. Terrace scored four in the second frame and Kamloops scored three, ending the period with a 7-5 lead.

Kamloops Shuswap Merchants are $1,950 richer today and the proud possessor of the Herald Trophy after their fine showing in the Second Annual Jaycees Invitational Commercial Hockey Tournament.

The Terrace Jaycees must be congratulated on the way this tourney was run. Most of the teams assure us that they will be back again next year with stronger clubs.

Play well, but lose two straight

Kings come up short against Mohawks

Kings 3 Prince George 6
Kings 2 Prince George 4
The Prince George Mohawks took the first step towards winning their fifth Coy Cup — indicative of intermediate hockey supremacy in British Columbia — in the last seven years when they beat Prince Rupert Atom Motor Kings in two straight games in their best-of-three quarter-final series this weekend in Prince George.

The hosts dumped the Kings by a 6-3 margin in Friday's opener and then collected a 4-2 overtime triumph on Saturday. Even though they failed to come home winners, however, there was certainly no shame in defeat for Prince Rupert.

They played perhaps their best hockey of the year in the series, and were extremely fortunate to not come up with a victory in Saturday night's encounter.

The Kings carried the play to the Mohawks throughout that game, but simply could not solve the puzzle of Prince Georgetminder, Brian Claus.

Rupert was also in an excellent position to win the opening game on Friday after rallying from an early 2-0 deficit to go ahead 3-2 in the middle frame.

However, the Mohawks, a solid, well-balanced hockey club who reached the Canadian Intermediate Hockey final last year, took advantage of a let-down by the Kings to score four unanswered times in the last half of the game.

Kirk McIvor gave the 'Hawks a 1-0 lead with 5:22 gone in the game when he lifted the puck past Don Olmstead after the veteran Kings' goaltender had made at least three good saves in a row.

Grant Evans, the Mohawks top scorer during the regular season, made it 2-0 nine minutes later before the Kings finally came to life and tallied three quick markers late in the first and early in the second period.

Gord Stephens, at 15:10 of the opening stanza, got the Kings on the board when he lifted a backhand over Glen Beuckert after converting passes from Dave Pickett and Richard Wright.

Pickett, out of the Kings' lineup for the past two weeks with a back injury, then went to work and scored a pair of pretty, unassisted power-play goals.

The first came three minutes after Stephens' tally while the second put the Kings in front by a goal with 3:34 gone in the second period.

That was it though for the Kings, and the Mohawks got goals from Glenn Johnson and McIvor to open up a 4-3 lead after forty minutes of play before Dennis Bergeron and Evans picked up unanswered goals in the final stanza.

Saturday night, meanwhile, a combination of Claus' fine play and Rupert's inability to finish off good scoring opportunities did in the Kings.

They could have been ahead by three or four goals and had the game locked up by the third period, but as it was, they held only a 2-1 advantage late in that stanza before McIvor tallied a power-play goal with 3:12 left in regulation time to force a ten-minute overtime session.

The teams had battled through a scoreless first period before Richard Wright blasted one past Claus after taking a feed from John Vaudry early in the second frame.

Rupert had a couple of glorious chances to extend their lead to 2-0 when defenseman Don Gillespie walked in from the point only to see his shot flip off Claus over the net and then shortly thereafter Pickett narrowly missed scoring on a partial breakaway.

Prince George drew even when, with the Kings holding a man-advantage, Brian Toll beat Jerry Kurka for a short-handed goal midway through the second period.

That goal ruined what had been a flawless performance in that point by Kurka, who came up with a sparkling performance of his own in the game.

He made point-blank saves on Brian Back and Darcy Alexander in the first part of the contest and then, with the score deadlocked at 1-1 in the third period, made sprawling stops on Pat Keough and Alexander to keep the Kings even.

Rupert, meanwhile, narrowly missed collecting goals of their own when Gord Stephens shot wide of an empty net from right in front and Mike Vannier then slid the puck just wide on a breakaway.

The Kings finally went ahead 2-1 with 8:15 left in regulation time when strong work by Wayne George, Ben Pyde and Vannier paid off with George popping home a backhandler from the side of the Prince George goal.

The Mohawks had a power-play chance with 6:06 left when referee Alex Wick handed Moe Kmyta a roughing penalty, but Rupert did a strong job of killing it off and actually had the best scoring chance when Rick Spracklin was robbed by Claus.

However, as soon as the Kings had killed off Kmyta's penalty, Norm Stephens picked up an interference minor, and this time it took the Mohawks just four seconds on the power-play to get the equalizer.

The Kings, who outshot Prince George 35-31 in regulation time, never really got going in the overtime session.

They were outshot by an 8-2 margin in overtime, and spent most of their time struggling to get the puck out of their own end.

Keough scored following a face-off in the Kings' zone to make it 3-2 with 3:39 gone in overtime, with Alexander rounding out the scoring with an empty-net goal in the last minute of play.

However, immediately prior to Alexander's goal, Pickett appeared to be tripped while cutting around a Mohawk defenseman; no penalty was forthcoming from the referee and Kings' coach George Kuntz was given a gross misconduct for protesting vehemently the lack of a call on the play.

In the final analysis, it was perhaps the Kings' lack of depth which hurt them more than anything else, especially along the blueline.

With captain Dave Allen out for the year with a broken leg and Joe Clotoli only able to see limited ice-time because of a back problem, Kuntz only had two regular defensemen left at his disposal in Kmyta and Gillespie.

He moved Al Sidoni back to join Kmyta and Gillespie, and those three alternated almost all the way along the blueline; all played well, particularly on Saturday, but all were very tired and probably saw too much ice-time to insure top performance.

Upfront, meanwhile, the Kings had at least five players suffering minor aches.

John Vaudry (ankle), Dave Pickett (back), Gord Stephens (neck), Mike Vannier (thumb) and Stu Marshall were all operating at less than one hundred per cent.

By comparison, the Mohawks had no one out with injuries and almost every player in the lineup was totally healthy.

In spite of the fact his club got beat, Kuntz expressed his pride in their own ice showing.

"We played our best hockey ever," he declared, "and when you consider our injury situation, I can't help but be proud of the boys — they really gave it all they had."

Kuntz also stated that he believed the Kings are as good as the Mohawks, and saw the two games this way: "We let up a bit Friday and they were good enough to take advantage of it — Saturday, we really should have won; their coach (Don Wilkie) even admitted to me they were quite fortunate to win on Saturday."

On Saturday, the Kings still do not know the status of their Fowler Cup series with Smithers Totems, although they expect to get a decision one way or another early this week.

Loose Pucks: The Mohawks will now advance to play Fort St. John in provincial semi-final action.

In other matters, the Kings still do not know the status of their Fowler Cup series with Smithers Totems, although they expect to get a decision one way or another early this week.

Terrace Men's Basketball report

by Mike Ireland

Monday night, there were two games played in the T.M.B.A., with both games coming out as they should. All Seasons defeated the Terrace Reds, 113-92, in the first game. Leading all scorers was Tom Marvin with 41 points for All Seasons. He was followed by Mike Ireland and Doug McKay with 24 and 22 points respectively. Willie Chemko led the Reds with 35 points followed by Nick Tooms and Kevin Earl with 18 points apiece.

In the second game, Ev's Clippers defeated Skeena Hotel Orphans 96-69. Paul Walker and Dale Prest were high scorers for the Clippers with 28 and 23 points. Peter Goodwin was the leading scorer for the Orphans with 20 points.

Wednesday, the top two teams continued to win as All Seasons defeated Ev's Clippers and the Terrace Reds stomped the Skeena Hotel Orphans. The first game was fairly close as All Seasons won 98-91 over the Clippers. Ed Devries, Tom Marvin and Doug McKay led All Seasons with 28, 21 and 20 points respectively. Rod Kluss scored 22 points and Paul Walker added 21 more for the losers.

The Terrace Reds walked over the Skeena Hotel Orphans 102-59. John Walbergs had 31 points for Reds followed by Willie Chemko

Doug McKay	All Seasons	37	635	17.2
Dale Prest	Clippers	19	320	16.8

with 20 points and Al Glover with 19. For the Orphans, Mike Zylcz had 16 points.

This concludes the regular season play with All Seasons finishing first followed by Reds, Ev's Clippers and Skeena Hotel in last place. The league now takes a week off to allow for the All Stars to travel to Vancouver for the Senior "B" Championships. When action resumes, it will be the playoffs with All Seasons playing Skeena Hotel and the Terrace Reds playing Ev's Clippers in a single elimination semi-finals.

In the final individual scoring statistics John Walbergs of the Reds came out on top with a 25.2 points per game average followed by Rod Kluss of Ev's with 24.9 points per game, Mike Ireland of All Seasons with 24.5 points per game and Albert Olson of Skeena Hotel with 23.8 points per game. Rod Kluss led all scorers in total points with 898 (36 games) with Mike Ireland (35 games) and John Walbergs (34 games) second with 857 points.

THERE'S NO JOB WE'D RATHER DO.

It's a pleasure for us to wander after hours or on a weekend.

Almost everywhere we look, we can see the results of the things we do for our communities and their people.

Take Linda. We helped her find a teaching position in a special remedial school. She loves it, you can tell by the look on her face. And the kids love her, too.

Her new job has brought her financial security and added something important to the quality of life in her community.

In our factories and offices, there are more people working and contributing because we were able to help them help themselves to something better.

We're the people at the Canada Manpower Centre.

It is not our job to push paper, fill in forms and mail letters. We work first for you as an individual, then for the community and Canada.

We deal with all the people and groups of people who are concerned with making this community prosper and grow. It takes us everywhere from the downtown office towers to the rural outskirts.

And it takes a lot of dedication.

The Terrace Recreation Department is sponsoring another Team Handball Clinic. This will be on Saturday, April 2, at Caledonia School Gymnasium, to start at 9:30 a.m. and last for three hours. The clinic will be an introduction to the basic skills and training and conditioning routines. All participants will get the opportunity to take part in a scratch game. Anyone interested please phone Roger Duffy at the Terrace Recreation Office, 638-1174.

News of another B.C. Coaching Development Clinic; this time the course covers Level 1 Technical for Baseball Coaches. The clinic is being run by the B.C. Baseball Association. The location has to be decided, but will be based in Terrace. The course will be of interest to all coaches of baseball in the local area to include Kitimat and Hazelton. All interested persons phone 638-1174 and ask for Roger Duffy. The course is on April 30 and more complete details will be made available as soon as possible.

Tony Gillard, the Terrace Arena Branch Head, was really impressed with the Jaycees Commercial Hockey League Tournament this past weekend. The organization and control exercised by the Jaycees was exemplary. The calibre of the hockey was excellent and everyone is enthusiastically looking forward to next year. Well done Jaycees!

NFB Olympic film ready

"The Games of the XXI Olympiad", the official film of the 1976 Olympics in Montreal, produced by the National Film Board of Canada is now complete and awaiting world-wide distribution.

The two-hour color documentary was directed by 38-year-old Quebec filmmaker Jean-Claude Labrecque, in collaboration with associate directors Jean Beaudin, Marcel Carriere and Georges Dufaux, with Jacques Bobet as executive producer.

The filmmaking approach was "cinema direct", a documentary style for which the National Film Board is world-renowned. Labrecque's intention was "to show what the TV cameras did not; to personalize the great spectacle of the Olympic Games by following a few people very closely to see what the event means through their eyes". It is this human approach that now characterizes the finished film.

In addition to its original 16mm format, with sound tracks in both French and English, the film will also be shown in the 35mm version, accompanied by a stereo soundtrack.

The National Film Board has exclusive distribution rights to the film for a period of four years. Its distribution strategy has the world television market as the prime target in order to reach the largest audience possible.

POET'S CORNER

EYES AND EARS
by Ruby E. McCreight

I eyes were made to see with
And ears were made to hear
Why is it many people
Ignore beauty that is near.
I do not talk of all the ones
Whose eyes and ears are numb
Through sickness and affliction
To these my heart succumb.
But these with eyes so very clear
With ears that hear so well
Are losing so much loveliness
For nature's sounds compel.
There is no need to travel far
To get contentment true
Just walk along a country lane
When the sky is clear and blue
Look into the running creek
Hear the ripples sigh
Watch the water running tho'
The stones as you pass by.
See the birds and butterflies
Go playing in the breeze
Hear the rustling of
Those crisp, brown, autumn leaves.
These things are but a few
Of Mother Nature's tie
Yours to see and hear and love
If you use your ears and eyes.

The stamp was designed by wildlife artist Robert Bateman who has depicted the cougar in one of its known habitats—the remote forested areas of New Brunswick and the Gaspe.

Although the cougar exists in the central, western and northern parts of the continent, there are only 100 known at large in eastern North America outside Florida.

A total of 22 million stamps, produced by Ashton-Potter Ltd. of Toronto will be issued March 30.

BOOK REVIEW

MORATORIUM
HUGH AND KARMEL
McCULLUM AND JOHN
OLTHUIS

A cold war is presently waging between those people who seek wealth through short term measures and those people who want to protect the future by examining every aspect of fundamental issues like oil pipelines.

The leaders in the struggle against helter skelter development such as pipelines built by panicked energy concerns are the churches in Canada which are asking for a 10-year moratorium on northern development projects like the Mackenzie Valley pipeline.

The authors of this book suggest this 10-year period will give all of society an opportunity to discuss fully the issues that will affect their future.

"This book is a statement of our conviction that, to one extent or another, most of us have unconsciously come to live by a distorted view of what it is to be human. We have allowed ourselves to be deluded by the thesis that man is an economic animal and little more.

"We believe that...a radical change in our

GREAT AMERICAN BEAUTY CONTEST

1972 Stars Eleanor Parker, Bob Cummings, Louis Jordan, Barbi Benton. Rivalry of America's loveliest girls for a coveted beauty title is threatened by a scandal which implicates a judge, a former winner and one of the five finalists.

THE SHOWDOWN

1971 Gene Berry, Warren Oates, Albert Salami, Jack Albertson. Gene Berry plays a dual role in a drama about old and new versions of a legendary gunfight in the Old West.

SHOES OF THE FISHERMAN

1968 Stars Anthony Quinn, Oskar Werner, David Janssen, Laurence Olivier. Russian archbishop, released after 20 years from a prison camp, is ordered to Rome to resume his religious duties. After the Pope's death, he is elected to be the first non-Italian Pope in history.

STEEL TOWN

1952 Stars Ann Sheridan, John Lund, Howard Duff. Spoiled nephew, learning steel business to take over plant, is hated by fellow workers.

GRAND PRIX

1966 Stars James Garner, Eva Marie Saint, Yves Montand. Three champion racing car drivers, an American, an Englishman and a Frenchman compete in the annual Grand Prix, and their lives are intertwined by injuries, accidents and romances.

THE SHEEPMAN

1958 Stars Glenn Ford, Shirley MacLaine, Leslie Nielsen. Soft-spoken but two-fisted sheep owner brings his herd into heart of cow country.

WITNESS FOR THE PROSECUTION

1957 Stars Tyrone Power, Marlene Dietrich, Charles Laughton. Courtroom drama about young man's trial for murder of wealthy woman 'friend'.

system is required and the Mackenzie Valley pipeline and its attendant decisions are a critical focal point for a serious look at rearranging our priorities. Such a change must honour the needs of people, the multidimensional images of God and the delicately ordered creation, and must go towards restoring the harmony God saw when he looked at all he had made and said, It is very good," the authors say.

The book deals particularly with the lifestyles of the northern native peoples that will be affected by the building of such pipelines.

It asks the question everyone is hearing today: Should Canada's north and native people be sacrificed to provide fossil fuels for our throw-a-way, North-

American culture, or should we turn away from energy consumption to resource conservation, from economic expansion to human growth?

This book could also be considered as three concerned members of the Church making their report on the issue of the pipeline before the Berger Commission's report is made public.

Two of the authors, the McCullums, wrote the well known book on Indian land claims, This Land is Not For Sale. John Olthuis is a lawyer and research and policy director for the Committee for Justice and Liberty Foundation, another church organization.

It is available by writing to The Anglican Book Centre, 600 Jarvis Street, Toronto M4Y 2J6.

Tales of Ulysses

ON CBC-TV MARCH 30

Marc Chagall - still painting at 89

It was while working on the award-winning Next Year in Jerusalem that CBC-TV producer-writer-director Harry Rasky became involved with the filming of the works of the artist Marc Chagall. Chagall's window on an Old Testament theme (at the Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem) was a visual highlight of that drama-documentary, which won the ACTRA Award as "best TV program in 1975."

In an attempt to solicit Chagall's active cooperation for a film on the artist's life and work, Rasky showed Next Year in Jerusalem to Chagall at his home in St. Paul de Vence, near Nice on the French Riviera.

"We projected it on his living room wall," says Rasky, "and waited for the reaction."

"This film will help me live longer, not less," was Chagall's comment, "but doing a film on Jerusalem was easier than doing one on me."

"In a way Chagall was right!" admits Rasky. Homage to Chagall - The Colours of Love, for telecast on the CBC-TV network on Wednesday, March 30 at 9:30 p.m., is more than just a look at the art of the painter who has been called "the world's greatest living artist". It is an intimate look at his life, his imagination — and over and above everything else, his love.

Marc Chagall is a great believer in life and love. His work, his dreams, his life itself relies deeply on his loving relationship with all things. "Only love interests me," Chagall has said, "and I am only in contact with things that revolve around love."

At 89 years of age, Marc Chagall looks back over a long, productive career, moving his brush in a constant search for love — and finding it, in all things, in all people. Chagall has been described in various terms — but never as an anachronism. His talent, his artistry is a living thing — always new, always growing, transcending the years of his own life and the centuries of man.

In this CBC-TV film, Harry Rasky has brought Chagall's paintings to life on the television screen. But more than that, he has brought the artist to the screen as well, documenting his life amidst the colours of his own works — the colours of love.

Chagall has written "I have hidden my dreams in the clouds, my sighs, breaths flying with the birds. I am proceeding and, in walking, I exhaust myself in front of fires which come from the world. My love is as waters scattered to the four corners. My paintings hide behind me."

It has been said of Chagall that he was born romantic, that he is constantly wonderstruck, surprised by the magic of light and life. The proof of the man's genius is that he was — and is — capable of portraying that wonder and surprise on his canvas. He paints in such a way that the viewer is surprised and wonderstruck. He paints, as he has said, "What I see and what I dream." Those dreams somehow transmit themselves to his audience.

Homage to Chagall is a visit to the life and times of a forever youthful, forever ingenious creator, an artist who has spent and is still spending a lifetime with the colours of love.

Television premiere of Canadian film

An award-winning Canadian film on the expanding frontier in early western Canada and the eventual discovery of a way through to the Pacific Ocean, will have its television premiere on CBC-TV, Wednesday, March 30 at 9 p.m.

Search For The Western Sea, with dialogue spoken by Christopher Plummer, highlights one of the most significant episodes of Canadian history — the linking of east and west with the breakthrough to the Pacific Ocean by Alexander Mackenzie in the late 18th century.

The film was made for the Devonian Group in Calgary in the studios of the Banff Centre for Fine Arts. It won Gold and Silver Awards at the 1976 New York International Film and Television Festival. Its most unusual aspect is that it does not feature a 'cast of thousands' to present the story of western development — there are no actors or sets.

Instead, producer-director Milton Fruchtman has brought to life figures and scenes depicted on canvas in the art collections of the Devonian Group and the Glenbow-Alberta Institute, Calgary.

These have been filmed to bring together an exciting and visually beautiful account of life on the plains before the coming of the white man, the arrival of fur traders from the east and finally, Alexander Mackenzie's hazardous journey through the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific Ocean in 1792-93.

With brilliant blending of voice, music and visual image, mist seems to rise as hearty voyageurs guide their canoes across roughly mapped lakes and down thundering rapids; snow falls as traders pull their dogs and sleds into company outposts. Battles with the Blackfoot warriors are no less fierce because they are filmed off canvas, and buffalo stampeding towards the brink of a precipice appear to tumble over the edge.

Alexander Mackenzie, an employee of the North West Trading Company, begins his second attempt to find the Pacific in 1792 motivated by a desire to extend the fur trade but also by an explorer's zeal to map the unknown. His trip down the Peace River towards the west is dramatically captured. The canoe is smashed against rocks and has to be repaired; he runs desperately short of rations, climbs snow-capped mountain ranges and still cannot see his goal. Finally Mackenzie finds his way to the shores of the Pacific at Bella Coola.

Fruchtman has previously used this technique of translating art into moving pictures with international success. He and Christopher Plummer won the Emmy and Peabody Awards for their work together on The Secret of Michelangelo: Every Man's Dream. Fruchtman feels he has refined the technique further in the making of Search For The Western Sea.

Music composed by Kenyon Hopkins was specially recorded by an orchestra comprised of members of the Toronto Symphony and Hamilton Philharmonic. The script for Search For The Western Sea was written by George Moore.

Pots and Pans

By Ian and Judy Jamieson

"Pots and Pans", a cooking-exercise program, premiered Sept. 15 on CTV, providing viewers with a refreshing half-hour of entertainment and demonstrating how diet and exercise, when combined, make losing weight a faster, pleasant experience.

Concern about obesity, physical fitness and proper nutrition have created a market for an unending variety of goods and services. Some of these products are good; some are merely ineffective; some are downright dangerous. "Pots and Pans" may help to clear up many queries about fad diets and exercise programs and provide audiences with a fresh outlook for a slimmer, trimmer future.

Co-host Ian Jamieson demonstrates ballistic exercises at an easy pace viewers at home can follow and imitate. Ballistic routines require more movement than passive exercises such as yoga, but Ian stresses that results come more quickly.

"You can lose two inches in two weeks by religiously following 'Pots and Pans' exercises," states Ian Jamieson.

When co-host Judy Jamieson isn't joining in the exercises, she's in the kitchen pursuing her long-time interest in cooking and nutrition. She demonstrates the preparation of a variety of tempting recipes and discusses low-calorie meal planning. With Ian's "help", she whips up original dishes that won't injure a reducing diet, yet look so attractive and delicious they can be served to company.

This entertaining and helpful TV programme is also a book of the same name. POTS & PANS includes tables to record weight and inches loss and Judy's delightful recipes as well as many photos. POTS & PANS is published by Hancock House Publishers Ltd., 3215 Island View Rd., Saanichton, B.C. Price: $4.95.

Literary publishing in British Columbia

NEWS FROM THE LIBRARY
by Elaine Perry
Although literary publishing in B.C. is limited, there are some books which have gained wide recognition. The most important publisher of literary works in the province is Talon Books of Vancouver.

Talon publishes books of high literary and aesthetic quality — books such as Audrey Thomas' first novel, Mrs. Blood and later works, Songs My Mother Taught Me and Blown Figures.

Talon recently published Durer's Angel by Marie-Claire Blais, one of Canada's most highly regarded novelists. They also publish the major Canadian Playwrights, David Freeman (Battering Ram) and James Reaney (Apple Butter and Other Plays for Children). The 1973 Leacock Award for Humour was won by Max Braithwaite for A Privilege and a Pleasure which was published in Vancouver by J.J. Douglas. Nunaga Publishers of Surrey have published two novels by Maud Emery: A Seagull's Cry set on the B.C. coast and a new one, Jean Pauline - An Indian Tragedy.

LIBRARY
PROGRESS REPORT
On your next visit to the library you will meet a new book issue system. A photocharger has replaced the time-consuming manual system. The photocharger photographs details of the book, your library card and the return date on microfilm. Please have your library card with you for borrowing material — it is essential to this system.

NEW AND NOTABLE BOOKS
A new edition of W.O. Mitchell's Canadian classic, Who Has Seen the Wind?, touchingly illustrated by well-known artist, William Kurelek.

A Fringe of Leaves, an important novel by Australian Nobel winner, Patrick White. It is an adventure story as well as a story of 19th century manners. The heroine is "one of the most engrossing women in modern fiction" according to "Saturday Review".

A Very Double Life: the private world of Mackenzie King by C.P. — the book which has created a great deal of interest in the former prime minister.

Make Your Own Camping Equipment provides instruction on making packs, tents, sleeping bags and clothing.

Government brochures helps canoeists

If you're off on a canoe trip, you'll find it easier and safer than it used to be, thanks to a brochure just published by the federal Department of Energy, Mines and Resources.

The free brochure, called Maps and Wilderness Canoeing, is designed to help canoeists, particularly beginners, make the best possible use of their maps.

All of Canada's superb canoe country is mapped. But you shouldn't take maps for granted, like something handed out at a service station. If you do, you risk going down a waterfall, smashing up without warning in a rapid, getting lost and running out of food. On a wilderness canoe trip your map is your lifeline.

Youth Music Centre

Orchestral instrument programs, opera, voice, piano, composition and guitar are among the programs to be offered at the Courtenay Youth Music Centre July 10 to August 21.

Vancouver Community College in cooperation with North Island Community College will offer credit and non-credit courses.

Once again, the CYMC will be held in beautiful Comox Valley with its excellent school and recreational facilities.

Many of Canada's finest musicians will again be on faculty and instructors will come from major music centres in the United States.

CYMC accepts music students from beginners to advanced young professionals, providing a concentrated training that enhances all other music education programs — from regular school programs through private instruction to advanced studies in music departments of colleges and universities.

Further information is available from Courtenay Youth Music Centre, 2750 Oak Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6H 3N2. Phone: (604) 731-7513.

FIFTH DAY OF PEACE
1972 Stars Richard Johnson, Franco Nero. True story of what happened to two German P.O.W.'s during the last days of World War II.

NEVER SAY GOODBYE
1956 Stars Rock Hudson, Cornell Borchers, Geo. Sanders. Doctor, through misunderstanding, walks out on wife, taking young daughter. Re-united years later, they keep mother's identity from daughter until she can regain child's love.

ROAM AT HOME

A TRAVEL BRITISH COLUMBIA FEATURE

THE WILDFLOWER PLACE

by Ed & Jean MacKenzie

"This business," explains John Richards, with a wicked grin, "is built on junk that nobody else wants!"

But John and his wife Maureen are not junk dealers. They are in the wildflower business and their Okanagan workshop and display house are open to the public from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily. Located halfway between Oliver and Osoyoos on the east side of Highway 97, the bright orange roof of their shop is clearly visible atop the hillock they call Wildflower Mountain. Visitors who tour their plant on No. 20 Road come away marvelling at the magic that makes an attractive centerpiece out of dusty roadside weeds.

This is one of Canada's unique industries — supplying decorative dried blossoms and seed pods to florists and flower arrangers across the continent. John and Maureen, aided by a staff of 25, comb the shore, fields and roadsides of the province, gathering their materials. Many of the plants they seek are regarded as pests by farmers and ranchers who are only too glad to see them removed.

John began the business seven years ago, working out of his Vancouver basement. But the damp coastal climate mildewed his stock, so the Richards moved to the sunny Okanagan and their present ranch property. Eventually they hope to turn the land over to growing much of their own material.

Baby's Breath, which has seeded itself throughout the Okanagan, is one of their major items. It must be picked at exactly the right time, however, or it will not dry successfully. Blown clean, dried and coloured pink, mauve, green or gold, the delicate tracery of the tiny blossoms enhances many of the arrangements that fill the shelves in the display shop.

Though most of their business is with the wholesale trade, Maureen and a crew of floral experts have just begun to produce decorative arrangements for sale. In addition to these, they sell packages of materials so that customers, inspired by the wide variety of shades and textures, may try out their own designs at home.

Under their talented fingers, knapweed, a noxious plague to farmers, becomes a graceful component in a gay centerpiece. These sculptured forms of milkweed pods, bleached to pale satin by a secret formula, add dimension and contour.

Wild mustard, conquefoil, pearly everlasting, "ball of mustard", yarrow, false tarragon, wild larkspur and love-in-the-mist are all treasures to the eyes of the Wildflower picking crews.

Slender birch branches, tall crusty-brown spikes of mullein and clusters of alder cones are cleaned and then "velvetized" in John's homemade flocking machine.

"Wild pampas" is gathered along the Okanagan canals, and sea-coast salt marshes produce sand burrs and salt-water grass. Cedar sprays and salal are preserved in glycerine. Wild sunflower pods are sprayed into sunbursts of colour.

John and Maureen Richards have a good thing going on Wildflower Mountain — and part of their obvious joy in their work is the very human satisfaction of producing "something" from "nothing".

Summer School of the Arts - Terrace

TERRACE AND DISTRICT ARTS COUNCIL

Terrace and District Arts Council has again this year decided to sponsor a Summer School of the Arts. A committee of the Arts Council has been formed to organize the event. Ken Morton is Chairman of the committee, Val George is Secretary and Alan Soutar is Treasurer.

Other members are: John Chen Wing, Stefan Cieslik, Marilyn Davies, Merry Hallor, Stuart McCallum, Nancy Orr and Joan Spencer.

School District 88 (Terrace) and Northwest Community College will co-sponsor the Summer School which will run from July 11 to August 12, 1977.

It is hoped that the following courses can be included in the program: Suzuki Piano, Child Drama (organized by Terrace Little Theatre), Painting, Life Drawing, Puppets, Recreational Dance, Classical Dance, Voice, Weaving, Music Appreciation, Band, Senior Piano, Pottery and Adult Drama. Instructors have been secured for some of the courses and the committee is now looking for instructors for the others.

A film series of artistic films will be organized as part of the Summer School program.

Though the program has been determined the committee would welcome any suggestions for additional courses; if sufficient interest is shown, the committee will attempt to include additional courses. Persons with suggestions should call Ken Morton (635-7507) or Val George (635-6511 or 635-4751).

Arts-Crafts-Hobby exhibits

Applications for exhibition are now available for anyone wishing to put their arts, crafts or hobbies on display in the Terrace Annual Arts and Crafts Show.

There is no entry fee for this annual event to be held again at Caledonia Senior Secondary Gym, April 23 and 24.

Exhibitors, who can set up their displays on Friday evening, between 4:30 and 9 p.m., are not required to man their exhibits during the weekend.

For those selling their exhibits a selling booth will be available. A 20 percent commission will be deducted to go to the Terrace Art Association, which sponsors the show.

Demonstrations of any craft, art or hobby such as painting, weaving, macrame, quilting, batik, etc. are welcome and needed. If specific time slots are required, phone 635-9960 to arrange scheduling.

Entry forms, which must be returned to April 18, are on hand at Toco Craft and Northern Crafts. Out-of-towners write the Terrace Art Association, Box 82, Terrace.

For more information, phone 635-2964.

St. Michael's Choir comes to Terrace

On April 21 the St. Michael's Boys Choir of Toronto will visit Terrace on their western Canada tour and first ever visit to our community. In the evening they will present a concert for our benefit at the R.E.M. Lee Theatre.

This will be one of eight major concerts as well as singing at more than 200 other masses, shorter concerts and rehearsals. They will be travelling nearly 9,000 miles in aircraft, trains, buses and ferries in two weeks.

The three senior choirs, in total, 112 boys plus six adults plus their Director and Tour Coordinator will be singing. Mr. John Arab, a member of the Canadian Opera Company, is among them. They have given their tour the name Operation Elizabeth R. in commemoration of Queen Elizabeth's 25th Anniversary this year.

St. Michael's Choir School, Toronto, was founded in 1937 by the late Msgr. J.E. Ronan for the purpose of training a boys' and men's choir for St. Michael's Cathedral and future leaders in music of the liturgy of the Catholic Church.

Begun 40 years ago with 18 boys, the school today, under its present director, Father Peter Somerville, has an enrollment of 315. All the boys study piano and about 35 take organ. Violin, classical guitar and the entire range of theoretical music round out the music program. All study a complete academic program to University entrance. The school is under the Metropolitan Separate School Board and is registered as a private school in grades 11, 12 and 13.

The school has five choirs: a junior, three senior - divided by voice and an elementary. The elementary choir consists of boys in grades three and four, is a choir in training and appears in public only once at the Annual Christmas Concert at Massey Hall. This concert, sung by all the students, drew over 7,800 people in three performances last December. It is the only school in Canada affiliated with the Pontifical Institute of Sacred Music in Rome.

In 1971 the senior choir toured Rome, London and Ireland, participating in the International Choral Festival in Cork, winning one competition, placing second in another. Since then the three choirs have sung in nine provinces, over 50 centres, on both CTV and CBC National Television networks on numerous occasions. In the spring of 1976, the choirs toured Switzerland and Germany, competing in the International Choral Festival at Montreux, with the rating of "excellent". Last December they joined the Toronto Symphony Orchestra in a performance of the Third Symphony by G. Mahler. Their recent recordings, Joy to the World (1973) and This is the Day (1975) round out their performing schedule.

The Choir School's appearance in Terrace is being sponsored by Veritas School with the assistance of the Terrace Concert Association. Proceeds from the concert will aid St. Michael's Choir in providing future tours and aid in the purchase of resource material by Veritas.

All seats are $3.00 and tickets are available at Sight and Sound, Veritas School or through Terrace Concert Association executive. Phone 635-7047.

THINK COMPOSITION IN FALL FOLIAGE PHOTOGRAPHY

Autumn's great, glorious globs of color are almost overwhelming when you contemplate them with camera in hand. A wise first move, therefore, is to spend a little time absorbing and appreciating before you settle down to picture-taking.

Then, when your eyes have adjusted to the magnificence, look at the scene again, as though you were seeing it in black-and-white. Because, if you were taking black-and-white shots, you would be very conscious of the lines and angles and shapes which make up your pictures. All of these ingredients are equally as important when you are working in color.

Or, to put it another way, think composition. Look for the old stone wall, split rail fence or dirt road to lead the viewer's eye into the picture. Place the horizon line above or below the centre of the picture, and keep it level.

Look for a centre of interest, such as the stark white of a church steeple, to provide contrast to the surrounding color. When opportunity offers, frame the centre of interest by shooting with a leafy branch in the immediate foreground, thus providing your picture with an edging of softly out-of-focus color. A tree trunk or fence or wrought-iron gate will also serve as a framing device.

Be willing to walk around a bit to be sure you are using the best angle. Climb up on a fence or up a hill to see what the altered point of view will mean in your viewfinder. Or crouch down to shoot from a low angle to outline a brilliant tree against the sky.

Before doing the foregoing — to interject a word of caution — the wise photographer will check for poison ivy and inhabited pastures. The hazards of both need no explaining, except perhaps the comment that being stomped on by a bull isn't good for you or your camera.

If you are using a Kodak Tele-Instamatic camera, you not only have all the advantages of an aim-and-shoot pocket-size camera, but you also have a means of avoiding some of these pitfalls. By simply flipping a switch you can shoot with a telephoto lens which, in effect, puts you closer to your subject by magnifying the image. This means that, with luck, you can stay on the safe side of the fence and still get the pictures you want.

Your own perceptive eye will find many more.
